"FRECKLES" IS PLAY THAT PROMISES ENTERTAINMENT TONIGHT

One of the most important offerings and probably the last of the current season at the Steward is the first presentation here of Neil Twoney's delightful dramatization of Gene Stratton-Porter's charming story "Freckles," which is announced for tonight.

The fact that there have been more readers of this story than any other book published in a decade—a fair estimate is in the millions—makes the dramatization of the utmost importance to the dramatic world. "Freckles," as a drama is stronger than "Freckles" as a story. The characters live, love and have adventure—one can see and hear, there is nothing left to the imagination. D. L. Martin, under whose management the present tour is conducted, has made the production of "Freckles" exceedingly elaborate and has assembled a company of unusual excellence for the presentation of this charming story play.

The music for the play and the songs rendered by Freckles are by the Viennese Composer, Anatol Friedland, and are a novelty from a musical point of view. The Woodland Fantasy played during the play is a masterpiece.

Which are you trying to do—boost this town or bust this town?
