

GOOD SERVANTS ARE HARD TO GET

If you use an ELECTRIC RANGE the servant problem is solved. You can dress for dinner and then get your meal afterwards. Just turn the switch and your heat is there where you want it and when you want it, and as much as you want. Besides the ELECTRIC RANGE can be used at a cheaper cost than any other fuel.

With our special rate for cooking and appliances you can do it all by electricity. Your neighbor has ordered one of these ranges installed. Why not you? Call Main 34 and let us explain our trial proposition on appliances or ask our solicitor. Costs nothing to talk it over.

CARS CRUSH MAN TO DEATH

A FELLOW EN ROUTE TO LA GRANDE KILLED.

Little Known of Man Except His Name Is Sam Vice.

Pendleton, June 25.—The East Oregonian said last night:

While attempting to board east-bound freight train No. 24 in the O. W. R. & N. yards just before 1 o'clock this afternoon a man supposed to be a laborer who has been working on the Judd Rogers place near the branch hospital, fell beneath the wheels and was ground to death. Late this afternoon it was ascertained by Officer Alex Manning that the name of the dead man is Sam Vice and that he intended going to La Grande to look for work. No trace of relatives has been secured but friends believe his home was in Tennessee.

The body was not discovered until after almost the entire train had passed over it, and it was horribly mutilated. Both arms and both legs were severed and the trunk had been cut completely in two at the waist. Except the arms, the upper part of the body and the head had not been even scratched. Death was almost instantaneous.

Freight train No. 24, Conductor Mahoney and Engineer Hutchison, had been switching in the yards during the noon hour and at 12:45 started to pull out of the station. While switching the engineer had noticed a man sitting on the steps of the motor car about 200 yards east of Main street, but nobody has been found who was an eye witness to the accident. It is generally supposed that he swung in between two of the cars and his hand-hold slipping, had fallen to the track. The first known of the tragedy was when the conductor and brakeman, seated on the back end of the caboose, observed the mangled body on the track as their car passed the spot.

The body was removed to the freight depot and, though the man was unconscious, life remained in the body for fully ten minutes, evidenced by gasping.

Coroner Garfield had the body removed to the Baker morgue where a search of the clothing failed to reveal any clue to his identity. An O. W. R. & N. guide, a copy of the Boise Capital News and the East Oregonian with some cigarette papers comprised the contents.

A number of people upon viewing the remains identified the deceased as a man who had been working for Judd Rogers. No one seemed sure of his name, one man stating he believed it to be Wise, while others declared they had heard him called Sam, Jack and Slim. He was a young man, smooth shaven, thin faced and about six feet tall. He was wearing a blue jumper at the time of the accident.

Coroner Garfield is this afternoon trying to get in communication with Mr. Rogers. An inquest will probably be held tomorrow.

Bright Finish

THERE is always a charm and individuality about the old spoons which the early makers forged and wrought by hand. Absolutely plain, bright polished silverware is always rich and impressive and in our Mothers Pattern we have given this look of chasteness and dignity which the hand wrought spoon had. Designed from a very old pattern it is a perfect reproduction of the style our forefathers used and loved so well, and meets the demand in every way for a plain, bright finished Colonial pattern.
