LOG HAULER BADLY HURT

TWO HORSES KILLED IN SAME ACCIDENT.

Interesting News Items From Union and Vicinity.

Union, July 31.—(Special)—One of the Rutter Bros., who works at the Wright saw mill had a very bad accident yesterday and came very near losing his life. He was hauling logs to the mill when in some way the horses became frightened and ran away with him. Two of the horses were killed instantly and the third so badly hurt that it may have to be killed later. Mr. Rutter himself was badly bruised up and was hit by one of the wagon wheels in the back and it is a little early yet to determine the extent of his injuries.

The missionary society met at the home of Mrs. Rollins for their monthly meeting last Friday and had a fine meeting. After the meeting Mrs. Cooper presented the president, Mrs. Cockrum, with a large key and told her that it was the key to the Goodbrode home and would unlock all the things contained therein to the society. The ladies marched to the Goodbrode home where they found a fine banquet prepared for them. This banquet was the result of a contest had between different sections of the society and the ones that gained the most members were to be feted by the other side. The side that was defeated gave the banquet and surprised the other side by not letting them know anything about it. The ladies all expressed themselves as well pleased with the arrangement and everyone had a fine time.

GRASSHOPPERS AT STARBUCK.

Great Quantities Destroy Alfalfa and Grain About Starbuck.

Walla Walla, July 31.—Professor M. A. Yothers, entomologist of the state experimental station, who has returned to Pullman from Starbuck, where he was called to investigate an army of grasshoppers which were devastating the crops of that section, reports millions of the pests in evidence in the Starbuck country. Mr. Yothers says the grasshoppers are doing great damage to young alfalfa, potatoes and fruit trees, eating the alfalfa to the ground, stripping the potato vines of their leaves and bare the fruit trees. Many young trees from one to three years old are almost naked.

Many acres of alfalfa have been devastated. While the grasshoppers are more or less general in the Starbuck district, Mr. Yothers' investigations were made several miles above Starbuck, where the greatest damage has been done. He reports the grasshoppers as of several different species, most of them native of the west. Many Kansas hoppers were in evidence.

Mr. Yothers recommended a poisonous mixture, consisting of one pound of paris green to 25 pounds of bran and one pound of either salt or sugar.

These ingredients are mixed dry and enough water added to make a mushy substance, which is scattered broadcast through the infested area and is readily eaten by the grasshoppers.

While Mr. Yothers does not anticipate any serious spread of the pests he advises farmers to watch for them and take immediate steps toward their eradication should they appear.

Jamieson Shows "Class."

Jamieson, the southpaw released by Pendleton last week, and picked up from La Grande when the Spuds dried up, is now playing with the Willamette-Pacific team of Eugene. Sunday he held down first base in a game against Springfield and made good with a vengeance. Here is what the Eugene Register has to say about him: "Homer Jamieson, the latest man to be annexed to this pay roll of the W-P. was a tower of strength to the home team. In five times up Jamieson poked out five safe swats. He also played a brilliant game at the initial sack, plucking throws and bingles out of the atmosphere from all sorts of angles." Jamieson went bad after he went to Pendleton from here and seldom won a game, though he was rated high while a Spud.

GIRL BATHERS FLEE FROM BEES

Forced to Stay Outside Their Tent While Bees Take Possession.

Spokane, July 31.—While half a dozen Spokane girls, who have a camp at Newman lake, were in bathing one day recently, a swarm of bees took possession of their tent, where the girls had left their clothes, and compelled the bathers to spend the greater part of the afternoon in the water.

The bees, looking for a new home, took up their abode in an old cooking stove in the tent and proceeded to make themselves at home. They refused to allow the girls to enter the tent, so the fair campers had to be satisfied for the time being with the scant apparel of bathers. Finally a farmer living in the neighborhood was attracted by the plight of the girls, and volunteered to remove the bees paying the girls $5 for the bees and the old stove.
