SUGAR DEMAND REALLY GREAT

UNCLE SAM GREATEST CONSUMER OF SUGAR.

Importation of Sugar in 1913 Exceeds All Other Years.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 6.—More sugar was brought into continental United States in the fiscal year just ended than in any other year in the history of the country, according to the latest figures of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of commerce. The quantity of sugar entering from foreign countries and our own islands in the year ended June 30, 1913, was six and a half billion pounds and exceeded by five hundred million pounds the figures of the former high-record year, 1912, when the imports from foreign countries and the islands were, in round terms, six billion pounds. Of the six and a half billion from Hawaii, three quarters of a billion from Porto Rico, nearly a quarter of a billion from the Philippines, and the remainder chiefly from South America. Java, which has in some years sent us as much and one billion pounds of sugar sent but thirteen million pounds in 1913; while the quantity from Europe, chiefly beet sugar, was one hundred eighty-two billion pounds against but six and a half million in 1912, but being materially less than in certain earlier years, the total in quantity of beet sugar imported in 1901 having been 998,682,078 pounds, and in 1897, 1,865,567,495 pounds.

In value, however, the year's receipts of sugar fell nearly 30 million dollars below those of the last year, despite the fact that the quantity received was 500 million pounds greater. The total of sugar imported from foreign countries during the fiscal year 1913, was $104,639,823; and of that coming from Hawaii, $36,607,820; from Porto Rico, $26,619,158; and from the Philippines, $4,593,199; the latter, however, being included in the figures of imports from foreign countries. The average value per pound of the sugar imported from foreign countries in the fiscal year 1913 was 2.2 cents, as against 8.81 cents in 1912, 2.46 cents in 1911, and 2.6 cents in 1910.

These figures, which show that the sugar imported in 1913 exceeded that of any other year, suggest that the sugar consumption of the United States in 1913 will be larger than ever before and will, for the first time, exceed eight billion pounds. The quantity brought from foreign countries is about four and three-fourths billions pounds, and from Hawaii and Porto Rico nearly two billion, while the domestic production now approximates two billion pounds, the figures for 1912 being, of beet sugar, about one thousand two hundred million pounds, and of cane sugar, seven hundred twenty-four million pounds. Speaking in very round terms, it may be said that foreign countries supply approximately one-half of the sugar consumed in the United States, our own islands about one-fourth, and our own fields about one-fourth. Cuba supplies nine-tenths of that from abroad; Hawaii, about one-half of that from our islands; and beets, nearly two-thirds of that produced at home.

Sugar from Cuba makes its highest record in 1913, 4,311,744,043 pounds as against 3,509,657,596 pounds in the former high-record year, 1910, while that from the Dutch East Indies (principally Java) makes its lowest record in many years, being but 12,759,756 pounds, as against 340,396,410 pounds in 1912, 916,858,331 pounds in 1909 and 1,162,202,854 pounds in 1900.

Figures indicate that the United States is clearly at the head of the list of sugar consuming countries, the figures of the current year suggesting a consumption of more than eight billion pounds while the latest available figures indicate a consumption in India of about six billion pounds, in Great Britain over three and three-fourths billions, Russia three billion, and Germany two and three-fourth billion pounds.

Good Reason for His Enthusiasm.
When a man has suffered for several days with colic, diarrhoea or other forms of bowel complaint and is then cured sound and well by one or two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as is often the case, it is but natural that he should be enthusiastic in his praise of the remedy, and especially is this the case of a severe attack when life is threatened. Try it when in need of such a remedy. It never fails. Sold by all dealers.

Lupus Worst Form of Skin Diseases

Here is a Home Treatment that Overcomes even Worst Cases.

Blood Disorders are Banished by S. S. S.

A tiny pimple spreads to the side of the face and often covers the cheeks and bridge of the nose. It is very destructive to the glands of the skin. No external treatments will overcome it, as the cause of lupus is from impurities in the blood supply. The only known method of cure is to get the blood supply under the control of S. S. S., the famous blood specific. Its action is quite remarkable and has direct influence upon the network of small blood vessels and glands in the skin. From the fact that S. S. S. is purely a botanical preparation, it is accepted by the weakest stomach and has great tonic influence in all the digestive organs. It is certainly a wonderful blood medicine, and is prepared direct from native materials gathered by the experts of the famous Swift Laboratory. Not one drop of minerals or drugs is used in its preparation. Ask for S. S. S. and insist upon having it. And if you desire skilful advice and counsel upon any matter concerning the blood and skin, write to the Medical Department, The Swift Specific Co., 183 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. Do not allow some zealous clerk to larrup the atmosphere in eloquence over something "just as good" as S. S. S. Beware of all substitutes. S. S. S. is what you need.
