

"FORGIVE US OUR TRESPASSES"

The first of three great single-reel features to be shown at the Arcade. This series was made in the marvelous all-glass studio at New Rochelle by the incomparable Thanhouser "Stock." "The Eye of Krishna" and "The Lost Combination" are the other two. Today and tomorrow "Forgive Us Our Trespases" will be a great feature. It is a wonderful story of the wire and rail and will make you sit up straight in your seat. You would rather be there than in the division superintendent's place. FURNITURE IS ON WAY

BILL OF LADING FOR SEATS HAS ARRIVED.

New School Building to Be Ready for Occupancy on Time.

The bill of lading for the furniture that will equip the eight-room grade school building on Nort Depot now under process of construction, reached School Clerk A. C. Williams today. This assures speedy delivery of the seats and fixtures and will give ample time to place everything before school opens. The plasterers and carpenters aim to complete their portion of the work by the 15th of August and consequently the school board is worrying about the final completion of all details in connection with the relief building. Six rooms tucked away in corner basements and hallways of other school buildings last year, will be moved to the new building this fall.

WHOLESALE PLAN ADOPTED

C. O. RAMSEY COMPANY TO HANDLE SMALL FRUITS.

Less Than Carload Deals to Be Carried on With Retailers.

The C. O. Ramsey company, wholesale small fruit and vegetable wholesalers today became a new industry in La Grande. More correctly stated the firm has returned to this line of business after having dropped the enterprise for a year or more due to the big apple crop last year. Hereafter the firm will handle less than carload lots for distribution to local retail dealers.

"We will operate a delivery team and handle fruits and vegetables from producing points to the retailers about on the same plan that we did a little over a year ago," explained Manager C. O. Ramsey, today in announcing the addition to the line of business carried by the firm. "The usual attention will be given to carload shipments of fruit out of here as before."

North Powder Editor Married.

North Powder, Aug. 6.—A very pretty wedding was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Law of Union, at 3 o'clock Sunday, when Miss Mary A. Law was united in marriage to Cyrus R. Tibbetts, by Rev. Cockrum. The bride wore a dress of white Henrietta, trimmed with baby Irish lace, and carried a beautiful bouquet of sweet peas.

Only the immediate family of Dr. Law, brother of the bride, were present.

ent. A delicious luncheon was served. The home was tastefully decorated with roses and sweet peas. The bride has been editor and publisher of the North Powder News for nearly two years and has won many warm friends. Mr. Tibbetts is local agent and manager of the Pacific Fruit express company of this place and in his two years' residence here has qualified himself as a man of worth.

JAMES McCORMICK INVESTS.

Pioneer Buys Choice Acre Tract in North La Grande.

James McCormick, who for the past year has been employed by the city in the water department, this week purchased a choice acre tract in Pleasant Home addition of Mrs. N. E. Wilson. McCormick until a few years ago owned a mountain home in South La Grande. He sold that and said that he did not just feel right without a place he could call home. This deal was closed through Geo. H. Currey, the land man.

LONG TRIP PLANNED.

Local Banker to Be Guest of Portland Fire Department Band.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Lenhart, of this city will be guests of the Portland fire department band on its long trip to Washington and Cuba this month. Mr. and Mrs. Lenhart have been invited to join the trip by J. W. Stevens, a relative, who is leader of the Portland band, and they have accepted the offer. They leave in a few days and will tour a big portion of the United States before their return. Mr. Keifer of this city will manage the Model bakery while the proprietor is away.

GIRLS' WAGES FIXED.

State Commission Establishes Maximum Working Hour for Girls.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 6.—The Oregon state industrial commission yesterday fixed the maximum hour of labor for all girls under 18 at eight hours and 20 minutes a day, or 59 hours a week. They may not work after 6 o'clock at night, and all girls between 16 and 18 must receive a minimum of a dollar a day except when arrangements have been made with the commissioner for apprentices or learners.

The law will affect girls employed in department stores, telephone exchanges, telegraph offices, hotels and restaurants, laundries, mechanical establishments and other retail businesses of like character. It becomes effective 60 days hence. This is the first ruling made by the commission since its creation.

McKenna Very Ill.

Word received from Portland relative to the condition of John McKenna, a local O.-W. employe of veteran rating, is to the effect that Mr. McKenna is critically ill with cancer. He underwent an operation a few days ago and while doing as well as could be expected, is said to be very ill.

LUMBERMEN WILL GATHER

BIG MEETING OF LUMBER MAKERS AT HOT LAKE.

George Stoddard, President, to Preside at the Meeting.

Fifty or so of the leading white pine manufacturers of Eastern Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana will gather at Hot Lake next Saturday for the third quarterly meeting of the White Pine Manufacturers' association. George Stoddard of this city is president of the association and so important is the meeting that a special car has been chartered to carry the northern Idaho, northeastern Washington and other members of the association to Hot Lake. Eastern Oregon will have a representation on hand and the members look for an important session.

The Spokane delegation will reach Hot Lake on Number 10, enjoy lunch and proceed to business, for the afternoon. A dinner will be served at evening and then will come another important business session the guests from the west will return on No. 5 in the evening. The meeting promises to be one of the most important held in several sessions.

DAVID ECCLES HERE.

Ogden Millionaire Lumberman on His Way to Wallowa County.

David C. Eccles, successor to the late Lumber and sugar king, David Eccles, and who is president of the Oregon Lumber company owning a big mill at Baker and a big series of holdings at Des, where a huge mill was recently burned down, was in La Grande this morning.

Mr. Eccles arrived from Ogden, his home, and in company with George Stoddard of the Grande Ronde Lumber company, left immediately for Wallowa where the two men will inspect some holdings. Mr. Eccles is one of the leading mill owners of the state, though his headquarters are at Ogden.

GARRISON AT SEATTLE.

Cabinet Member is Guest of Seattle This Evening at Big Banquet.

Seattle, Aug. 6.—Secretary of War Garrison and Major General Wood were the guests of honor at noon today at the Seattle Commercial club banquet, following a review of the troops at Fort Lawton. Short addresses were made at the banquet by Governor Lister and Mayor Cotterill. The Garrison party leaves this afternoon at 3:00 for Spokane.

Secretary Daniels Back in Washington.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels returned to Washington after a coast to coast inspection of United States navy yards and naval stations. The secretary visited nearly every station and navy yard in the country and he said today that he was "full of ideas" to submit to congress next December in connection with his requests for appropriations.

Finis J. Garrett Heads House Lobby Investigating Committee

REPRESENTATIVE FINIS J. GARRETT of Tennessee was appointed chairman of the house lobby investigating committee. As such he faced an unusual situation, inasmuch as he was compelled to start over the same ground that had already been covered by the senate lobby investigating committee, of which Senator Lee S. Overman of North Carolina is chairman. The house committee was empowered to probe into lobby conditions of the present and past sessions of congress. Its scope was not to be limited at all, and the indications were that the inquiry might extend all through the summer and possibly fall. The house had been stung by the charges of corruption made by Martin M. Mulhall, former lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers

Walla Walla Boy Killed by Speeding.

Walla Walla, Wash., Aug. 6.—Unable to control his car while skidding from the macadam surface of the College Place road, just after he had passed directly in front of J. C. Scott's car, yesterday morning about 9:00 o'clock, Gerald Moore, an employe of the Dahlen Auto company, received fatal injuries when he was thrown with terrific force into the fence and his car landed on top of him an almost total wreck.

When two of the wheels skidded down into the mushy dust at the side of the road, going at a 60-mile clip, Moore was unable to swing back into the road again and his car overturned and landed on him against the fence exactly on the spot where Joe Tauchi was killed in a runaway accident, August 8, 1912, the coincidence of the two deaths on the same spot being the cause of considerable comment.

Immediately after he had landed Moore crawled from under the car and stepped into the road, walking about 15 feet when he fainted away. Mr. Scott had stopped his car and reached the lad's side within a minute after the accident but all efforts to revive him were to no avail, and Miss Helen Gregg, who was in Mr. Scott's party, immediately telephoned for a physician from a neighbor's house while Mr. Scott's daughter summoned assistance from the Dahlen Auto company.

The boy was rushed to the Walla Walla hospital and although he regained consciousness for a few minutes, he was unable to tell much about the accident, murmuring almost incoherently something about "wanted to pass car and lost control". He died shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Wheat Farmers to Raise Insurance

Pendleton, Aug. 6.—There is at least one farmer in the country who is meeting with a happy surprise. Elmer McCormack, who is farming the ranch of his father, W. H. McCormack, just north of Havana station first estimated his grain at 40 bushels to the acre and had it insured for that amount. Later he began cutting and found he had placed his estimate too low, so he raised the insurance to 48 bushels to the acre.

Then this morning, after having cut a large portion, he made an estimate on his actual yield and came in and raised his insurance to 54 bushels, the amount he is threshing.

A peculiar feature of the harvest this year is that there is scarcely a farmer in the Inland Empire who World's Specialists in Session.

London, Aug. 6.—London's normal quota of doctors was increased by over 7,000 today when the world's greatest specialists gathered at Royal Albert hall for the opening of the seventeenth International Congress of medicine. Practically every country in the world was represented when Prince Arthur of Connaught welcomed delegates on behalf of King George V. The next ten days twenty sessions will discuss "all the ills to which the flesh is heir."

Sir Thomas Barlow, King George's principal physician, is chairman and among the delegates are Professor Harvey Cushing, of Harvard University; Sargan General Charles F. Stokes, U. S. N., and Col. William C. Gorgas, and Major Frederick F. Russell, U. S. A. Professor Cushing will lecture on surgery as affecting the brain, on which he is reckoned the world's leading expert, and Surgeon General Stokes will deal with "Hospital Ships and the Transport of the Wounded". Col. Gorgas will read a paper on "Sanitary Organization in the Tropics" on which subject he will be followed by Col. Holier, of the British Indian Medical service, Dr. Hoinze, of Berlin, and Sir Ronald Ross, of Liverpool, "Anti-Typhoid Inoculations," is the subject chosen by Major Russell who will be followed by Sir William Leishman, of the British Royal Army Medical corps.

Under the general head of "History of Medicine" many experts of wide repute will submit papers of divorce interest. Dr. Norman Moore who is president of the section will describe the early history of St. Bartholomew's hospital, London, and Dr. W. S. Coleman will talk on the beginnings of St. Thomas's hospital, London. Sir William Osler, of "too old at forty" fame, will contribute a paper on the earliest printed medical books, and Dr. Raymond Crawford will discuss the Plague of Athens. Dr. Arnold Chaplin will lecture on "The Last Illness of Napoleon Bonaparte." The section on tropical medicine and hygiene will discuss plague, beri-beri and relapsing fevers. Its researches are expected to prove of utmost value in the treatment of tropical disease. The deliberations of the section devoted to Forensic medicine will deal with the psychology of crime, the cause and prevention of suicide and the habitual inebriate in relation to civil and criminal responsibility.

A remarkable feature of the congress is a museum comprising some 60,000 specimens, illustrating the diseases of the people of all nations and the discoveries that have been made in their treatment. It is the first display of its kind in the history of medicine.

made an estimate on his crop before harvest began who is not getting more grain than he figured on. This is accounted for by the fact that the heads are uniformly large, well filled and the grain is all of No. 1 quality.
