FOUR SCORE AND NINE.

Uncle George Webb, Former State Treasurer, Growing Younger.

"Old age, scat, nothing to it. I will be eighty-nine years old in September and I can outrun Phil Metchan or any other man who has been treasurer of Oregon, even to Tom Kay." And as Uncle George Webb made this remark he twisted his cane in hand like a bandmaster wielding a baton. The old gentleman is over from Pendleton visiting his daughter, Mrs. Jap Stevens for several days. He says he likes to get over in Grande Ronde for somehow the old valley is so homelike and prosperous. Mr. Webb was state treasurer in 1886, and preceded Phil Metchan in handling the state's coin.
