Rivaling all parties hitherto given at Riverside park the dancing party given by Miss Irene Murphy, Miss Ethel Roth, Miss Marjorie McCall and Mrs. Herman Siegrist, Chas. O. Ramsey, Charles Williamson, Walter Francis and Herman Siegrist, was the most successful mask dance given in La Grande in some decades. About seventy-four couples were masked and a number came later who were not masked. From eight-thirty until ten the couples awayed to the most entrancing strains, no one knowing who was his partner, but all dancing and enjoying themselves. At ten-thirty the grand march took place and masks were ordered off, when to the amazement of many they found that this one or that one was not at all who they had supposed and many "perfectly good guessers" lost their reputations. With masks off, and all knowing who was who, the dancing continued until midnight.

The hall was decorated in oriental lanterns and cut flowers, the orchestra sitting back of a bank of flowers. Punch was served throughout the evening by Miss Lois Given and Miss Gladys Moore. During the latter hours of the dance the hostesses served coffee and sandwiches from beautifully decorated tables at the far end of the hall.

Many quaint and beautiful costumes were in evidence; from the much heralded circus clown to the latest Parisian fashions were the order of the "gowns." Hans from over the Rhine, was there, Pat who kisses the Blarney stone, the man in the barrel, the most hideous of aboriginal Americans, was in attendance painted and featured for the war-dance, a whole army of circus clowns and a regular clown band, Uncle Sam, who knew all about Mexico, Allee same Chinaman, the much feared and blood thirsty Mexican with his habitual cigarette, "my Lady" Liberty, a full sized Broadway chorus, the lank man-woman of the clowns' force, numerous yama yama girls and "follies. Costumes of 1913, colonial ladies and colonial men with characteristic white wigs, tiny wee girls and boys of knickerbocker fame, and the mysterious Nomad man from the deserts, the southern gentleman in all his dignity and that of all because last of all a man wearing an X-Ray dress. The hostess and hosts of the evening were distinguishable from the rest of the crowd by their beautiful Turkish costumes direct from the Har-em, which set forth beauty and grace of lines and colors. Handsome head fesses of the men especially attracted much attention.

The men were attired identically, every item of their garb being truly Turkish, and the hostesses' charming gowns and make-ups were similar in pattern but varied in color and hues. The rich creations were hand made and beautiful in the extreme. Not only did the hosts and hostesses display keen taste in characterization, but the guests also displayed marked taste and originality. From a standpoint of varied beauty and great originality in costumes, the party stands head and shoulders over similar parties held here in many moons. The event added another notch in the record of big things socially staged at Riverside park pavilion this year.

At a late hour cars and taxis were called and the bevy of strangely attired guests took their leave.

The reception tendered the visiting ministers at the Idaho conference, at the high school last Tuesday evening was a great success from a "getting acquainted" standpoint. Early in the evening the ministers began to gather and from then until a late hour the corridors of the building were crowded. Music was furnished by the Wilson orchestra and punch and wafers were served by a number of young ladies of the church. The hall was decorated with cut flowers and ferns. About two hundred people were present during the evening.

The Hamal musical club of So. La Grande was delightfully entertained at the Hugh Kenne home on Thursday evening of this week. The club meets every week to give its attention to the study of music and every month is ended with some social affair. The program given this week by members of the club was participated in by the following: Mrs. Nina Kenne, Miss May Monroe, Miss Sarah Monroe, Mrs. Bessie Rudd, Miss Avis Vinacke, Mrs. Ivil Chatas, Miss Ruth Taylor and Miss Isabel Miller, Mr. Hugh Kenne, and Mrs. Irene King. The members of the Maccabee lodge spent last Tuesday at the park and enjoyed a real picnic. They went out during the cooler hours of the day and set a most sumptuous dinner at noon. To say that the ladies did justice to the dinner is putting it mildly. During the day the ladies went in bathing and enjoyed the pleasures of the open. When the sun had sunk low enough in the west to cool the atmosphere the ladies returned to their homes in this city, having spent one of the most delightful days in the history of the summer social season. About 80 ladies were present at the picnic.

The Happy hour club, a sewing club, of the city, met at the home of Mrs. Lee Hanford on last Friday afternoon. The afternoon hours were spent in sewing, after which dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The club is going to have a picnic at Riverside park next Tuesday afternoon which promises to be the banner event of its social existence. The picnic at the park comes a little in advance of the regular meeting but it is of special importance and therefore, deserves a day to itself.

Miss Lenna Bell gave a five course dinner party at Hot Lake last Sunday. The honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bell, Alden Bell, Zell Irene Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Heacock and Ruth Heacock. Miss Lenna Bell is a sister of J. P. Bell of La Grande and took this delightful method of entertaining a few of her friends. After the dinner the party was taken out by Mr. Heacock in his car. The trip was taken through the Ladd Canyon district and was most delightful to all.

For the pleasure of Mrs. Will French who will soon leave for her future home in Boise, Mrs. John Theisen entertained a number of Mrs. French's most intimate friends on Friday afternoon, at her home 1914 first street. The rooms were decorated in lavender and white the color scheme being carried out in everything during the afternoon. A greater part of the pleasant hours was spent at a mock auction sale in which small parcels were auctioned off under the hammer applied by Mrs. Ray Logan, an auctioneer. A dainty one-course luncheon was served the ladies by their hostess. Those in attendance were: Mrs. M. B. Donahue, Mrs. Grace Molitor, Mrs. Al Andrews, Mrs. Ray Logan, Mrs. DeLile Green, Mrs. Rufus Torch, Mrs. P. J. Thiesen, Mrs. Frank Bridges, Mrs. T. J. Scroggin, Mrs. Dan Tanner and Mrs. E. E. Bragg.

This afternoon Mrs. E. B. Fyke, hostess to the conference, and Mrs. W. A. Winters, wife of District Superintendent Winters, are entertaining at the parsonage for the wives of the Methodist ministers in the city this week. It was a very informal reception, and was punctuated with good music, jokes and refreshments. During the afternoon the following numbers were heard:

Violin solo—Enid Stanchfield.
Piano solo—Lucile Jorris.

The ladies of the Neighborhood club are requested to meet with Mrs. J. T. Richardson next Thursday afternoon for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention which convenes at Hood River, October 6th. The convention comes a week or ten days earlier this year than last which necessitates a call meeting. A good attendance is desired on Thursday at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. J. J. Carr entertained the Five Hundred club on Thursday of this week at her home on Fourth street. Mrs. H. C. Grady won the honors.

Mrs. J. P. Bell entertained the Ladies' Aid of the Lutheran church on Friday in honor of Miss Bell.

Mrs. Spencer entertained a few days ago at Honan hall in honor to her mother, Mrs. Alice Jennison, who is to leave La Grande and make her future home in Minnesota, after several years' residence here and in which time she has been an honored member of St. Peter's church and of the guild of that church.
