FAMOUS BIBLE COMING WEST

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS WILL SCRUTINIZE BOOK.

Coming Convention of K. of P. Lodge Attracts Much Attention.

LOCAL DELEGATES NAMED.
Dr. R. L. Lincoln, keeper of records and seals of the local K. of P. lodge, and Dr. J. W. Riley, prominent member of the lodge, have been named to represent La Grande at the coming conventio in Portland.

Albany, Ore., Sept. 16.—(Special to Observer)—During the session of the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias of Oregon in Portland next month, members of the order will have an opportunity to see the bible which Justus H. Rathbone, founder of the order, used in obligating its first members half a century ago. This historic relis, which is dear to the hearts of the 800,000 members of this fraternity, has never been shown before west of the Rocky mountains so the privilege the Oregon Knights will enjoy is a distinguished one.

Fred E. Wheaton, of Minneapolis, Minn., supreme keeper of records and seal of the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias, will be present at the coming session of the grand lodge and he will bring this bible with him.

This bible, which was given to the founder of the order by his mother on his fifth birthday, October 29, 1844, was used by him in obligating the first members of the Knights of Pythias. It was also used by him in instituting the first lodge of the order, Washington lodge, No. 1, in the National Capital, on February 19, 1864.

The bible remained in Mr. Rathbone's possession until August 24, 1876, when he presented it to the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias and it has remained in the custody of the officers of the supreme lodge since that date. The bible is now in the custody of Supreme Keeper of Records and Seal Wheaton and he will bring it with him when he comes to Portland next month to attend the Oregon grand lodge.

During the session of the grand lodge the historic bible will be used in the initiation of a large class into the first rank of the order and those who take the first step in Pythianism at that time will be obligated on this bible. This bible has been used in the initiation of almost five thousand members of the order but it has never been used heretofore west of the state of Kansas.

Men from all parts of the state will form the class which will be initiated at the grand lodge this year and from present indications almost every lodge in the state will take to Portland at least one candidate for this initiation, which will rank as the most historic event of the kind in the history of Pythianism in Oregon.

This feature of the coming grand lodge session will make this convention the most noteworthy ever held in the state and it will probably be marked by a larger attendance than that of any previous session of the grand lodge. The grand lodge will convene on October 14 and this will be the thirty-second annual session.

Besides Supreme Keeper of Records and Seal Wheaton other men of national prominence will be present at the session, among them Ralph W. Schoonover, grand chancellor of California, and Fred H. Tonkin, grand chancellor of Washington.

Another feature which will make the coming session of the grand lodge a notable one is that steps will be taken looking toward the securing of the session of the supreme lodge for Portland in 1916. It is believed the supreme lodge will consent to come to Portland that year and plans for procuring this gathering which will bring to Portland prominent men from all parts of the United States and Canada, will be discussed. At the grand lodge session last year a committee composed of prominent Pythians from all parts of the state was appointed to consider this matter and this committee will report at the coming session. This committee consists of L. M. Curl, of Albany; William M. Cake, of Portland, Gus C. Moser, of Portland; L. R. Stinson, of Salem; J. W. Maloney, of Pendleton; M. S. Davis, of Union; W. L. Gradshaw, of The Dalles; J. H. Gwinn, of Pendleton; L. E. Crouch, of Portland; Walter G. Gleason, of Baker; Clark E. Saunders, of Medford; Fred J. Johnson, of Astoria; Frank T. Wrightman, of Salem; George Ross, of Marshfield, and H. L. Poorman, of Ontario.

The past year has been a most successful one for the Knights of Pythias in Oregon and the results of a successful year will doubtless be reflected in a most enthusiastic convention. Not only has the order made a great growth in Oregon the past year but many lodges have erected castle halls and made other splendid improvements in their property. With the numerical and financial growth there has been a corresponding widening of Pythian spirit.

The present officers of the grand lodge of Oregon, who will be in charge of the coming session of the grand lodge are: Grand chancellor, J. H. Gwinn, of Pendleton; grand vice chancellor, Frank S. Grant, of Portland; grand prelate, H. L. Poorman, of Ontario; grand keeper of records and seal, L. R. Stinson, of Salem; grand master of the exchequer, J. W. Maloney, of Pendleton; grand master-at-arms, Jesse B. Paul, of La Grande; grand inner guard, John C. Holt, of Fort Stevens; grand outer guard, V. R. Buckingham, of Roseburg; grand trustees—Frank Menefee, of Portland; George W. Jett, of Baker, and Frank T. Wrightman, of Salem; grand tribunal—Clark E. Saunders, of Medford; chief tribune; Grand B. Dimick, of Oregon City, associate tribune; Willard L. Marks, of Albany, associate tribune; Ed D. Curtis, of Portland, recorder.

Among the prominent past chancellors of Oregon who are erpected to attend the coming session of the grand lodge are Ed. D. Curtis, of Portland; G. W. Hochstedler, of Portland, who has not missed a single session of the grand lodge since it was organized; Geo. W. Jett, of Baker; William M. Cake, of Portland; W. L. Bradshaw, of The Dalles; J. W. Maloney, of Pendleton; Emil Waldman, of Portland; L. M. Curl, of Albany; M. F. Davis, of Union; John M. Wall, of Hillsboro; Gus C. Moser, of Portland; Frank Menefee, of Portland; L. R. tSinson, of Salem; D. E. Yoran, of Eugene, and Frank T. Wrightman of Salem.

Pennsylvania Squad Out.

Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—The University of Pennsylvania football squad put its first day of practice of the season on the college gridiron today. Seven of the 1912 stars reported for another year's work to Head Coach Brooke and Captain Young, and a promising crop of freshmen also lined the field anxiously awaiting opportunity for a "try out."

Contrary to expectations, the squad will not be taken out of the city for preliminary practice as was usually the custom up until two years ago. Coach Brooke is anxious for this training but the football committee is opposed to it.

With only two weeks until the opening game of the season with Gettysburg, a great amount of work will fall upon the shoulders of Brooke and Gus Zigler and Si Pauxtis, his assistants. The team will probably also be handicapped by the absence of a trainer, as the football committee does not seem to be disposed to secure a man to succeed Joe McCracken, who saw to the physical condition of the players last year.

Three-fourths of criminals are unmarried, says the New York district attorney. This goes to show why the bachelors hate to give up their fun and come under strict discipline.
