Paris Takesc Up "Fly Swatting."

Paris, Sept. 29.—The war on flies, begun in America and which later spread to England, today reached Paris when between 500,000 and a million posters were scattered all over the city describing the germ carrying capacity of house flies and the resulting diseases, all vividly illustrated. The wording closes with the French equivalent of "Swat the Fly." The posters are being circulated through the perfecture of police.
