CAPITALISTS VISIT IN CITY

RAY NYE HERE TO LOOK AFTER PROPERTY.

President of Eastern Oregon Light &
Power Company in Valley.

To inspect business conditions and holdings of the Eastern Oregon Light & Power company of which he is president, Ray Nye, the Fremont, Nebraska capitalist, is in La Grande today. With him is his nephew, A. J. Winters, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and the two visitors are being shown the company holdings in the valley by F. A. Harmon, general manager of the company with headquarters at Baker. The holdings include the company's power conveying lines that belt the valley and considerable ranch land in the heart of the valley, where electrical pump irrigation has been experimented with by the company.

AUCTION BOX SEATS AGAIN

SALE TO BE HELD NEXT SATUR-DAY EVENING.

Fancy Prices Likely to Be Paid for Choice Fair Grounds Boxes.

Next Saturday night the annual auction sale of box seats at the fair grounds building will be put on at some convenient open air spot down town. The entire list of boxes will be sold at the best possible figures and if last year's heated bidding results, which is expected, some fancy prices indeed will be paid for the best boxes. It was quick work to dispose of the boxes last year, and the same will probably be the case this year.

The auction takes place at 8 o'clock sharp and following that the La Grande band is going to give an extraordinary program. The festivities will take place at the United States National bank building corner, and it is to be a gala event. There will be no mid-week concert, it having been postponed until Saturday evening.

VOTE IS LIGHT.

beamed smiles on the voters and with the exception of Mrs. Schilke are "new on the job." Mrs. Schilke served last year at the municipal election.

In the event that the new charter is adopted, the legal steps taken today will make it possible for the city to establish the validity, if such it is, for benefit in disposing of bond issues in the future.

The polls close at 7 o'clock tonight, and it is probable that all the votes will be counted by 9 o'clock, allowing an hour for the board members to take dinner.

A Marvelous Escape.

"My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. F. Bastians of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all dealers.

SEAT RUSH IS ON SATURDAY

TEN SEATS IS LIMIT FOR ANY SINGLE APPLICANT

Line to Be Given Preference Over the Mail Orders Is Edict.

As the day draws near when the reserved seat sale is to open for the Elks' big show, "The Elk's Tooth", increased activity on the part of all the lodge members to dispose of the tickets mailed them which they will not use is evidenced on all sides. Saturday, 12 o'clock, noon, is the time set for the sale to begin and no one person is permitted to reserve more than ten seats at one time. Owing to the limited capacity of the theatre this was found necessary. By this arrangement no person can reserve a large section of seats for friends and it will also shut out all chance for ticket scalping. Without doubt there will be the longest line in front of the box office Saturday noon, that has ever been known in La Grande. Requests from out of town Elks are coming in for seats already. Those in line will be given preference over telephone or mail orders. These will be taken care of after the first rush is over.

"The Elk's Tooth" is a great big extravaganza of bright, wholesome comedy, catchy music, clever dancing all superbly mounted with special scenery and gorgeous costumes especially made and designed for this special piece. The scenery was built and painted by the big Chicago firm of Sosman & Landis and is without doubt the finest ever brought to this city. Act I represents a big modern ocean liner at sea, and is considered to be the most complete setting of a ship on the stage today. Act II is the shore of a south sea island with a wealth of tropical foliage. Act III shows a south sea island village of thatched roof huts over looking the ocean in the distance. A special crew of 10 stage hands will be required to handle the scenery alone at the performances next Monday and Tuesday nights, October 6th and 7th.
