Show Thrills With Success

ELKS TOOTH PRESENTED WITH EXCELLENT SUCCESS.

ESSENTIAL PROVIDED

Good Music, Individual and Chorus, Stage and All Things Good.

With a smoothness of professionalism, a jingle and rhythm that smacked of Broadway and Geo. Cohen, some half-hundred La Grande people last evening presented H. L. Brown's comic opera, "The Elk's Tooth" at the Arcade theatre under direction of the composer and auspices of local Elks. Every iota of detail that makes up a real road comic opera was at all times evident and in costumes, stage settings, prima donna and comedian details, the parts were well carried. For the most part the principals were local men and women of stage experience and they showed it. Recruits in the business were equally up to standard however, and it is safe to say that no local musical production has ever been staged here that sparkled with as much keen comedy, good chorus work, excellent costumes and scenery.

"The Elk's Tooth" is brim full of catchy songs and the plot is just heavy enough to keep interest going. The comedy stuff was in the hands of such able veterans as Adna Rogers and Charles Harding, and Willie Pearce, who broke into the glare of calcium with a funny role well adapted to his nativity. No one ever heard him sing before but he got by with his solo work in tip top shape and with the combination noted, kept humor at high tide throughout. The principal characters on the men's side were carried by C. P. Ferrin, an old time favorite and Jack Hadaller, new to local stages but an experienced soloist, and the

SULZER'S FATE GROWS DARKER

COURT OVERRULES PRESIDING JUDGE'S ORDER.

Damaging Testimony Presented Yesterday Will Stand as Evidence

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 7.—The Sulzer impeachment court in executive session today, voted one to 14 to overrule Chief Justice Cullen's decision that Allen Ryan's testimony before the court yesterday was inadmissible. The vote indicated an overwhelming anti-Sulzer sentiment. The outlook for Sulzer is considered dark.

The testimony referred to was introduced by the prosecution to show that Sulzer attempted to involve Root and Barnes in the Albany affair.

Ryan's Evidence Damaging.

Ryan recalled and considerably amplified the story told yesterday. Not only, he said did Sulzer try to influence the republican senators through Root and Barnes but he wanted Ryan to have Delancy Nicols see the "Boss" and urge that he persuade him to have the impeachment called off. The method the governor suggested Ryan explained, was that the senate vote that the lower house had exceeded its authority in impeaching him.

SUN PEEPING OUT INSTILLS FAIR INTEREST

RACES NOT TO BE HINDERED BY SURPLUS OF RAIN PAST 24 HOURS.

BETTER TRAIN SERVICES

East End of Country to Get Special Arrangement in Train Service—Weather Clearing and Indications Point to Excellent Weather for the Opening Day Tomorrow.

PROGRAM TOMORROW TO BE RUNNING EVENTS.

To let the track dry as much as possible, there will be no harness events on the opening day and a double up program is promised for the balance of the week. Tomorrow afternoon commencing at 2:30 sharp, the program for the day will be: Three-quarter mile dash; half mile dash and the start of the relay race. The free for all and 2:08 paces have filled in fine shape and their dates will be announced tomorrow. These will be the banner races of the week.

Old Sol broke through the clouds at noon today and Union county fair stock went booming again. The race track will be in fairly good shape by tomorrow and tip top by Thursday and the rest of the week. Announcements by the O.-W. to the effect that No. 18 will stop at all points east every evening during the fair, allowing North Powder, Haines, Union people opportunities to spend the entire day here, have been largely successful in instilling added interest from the east end.

The fair gates swing open tomorrow and there is every reason to believe that fair weather will prevail the balance of the week. No damage has been done to the track that cannot be overcome with ease from now on.

McClure Buys Welton's Dray Line.

W. E. McClure & Company will be the name of a new dray line which was formerly known as the A. Welton Dray Line. Mr. McClure has taken over a share of the interests and will begin work at once.

HEAVY SNOW STORMS SWEEPS OVER BEAVER CREEK INTAKE

Blizzard wind and heavy snow fall reaching a total of one foot in depth, rages at the Beaver creek intake, 18 miles from La Grande today. Telephone communications from Caretaker Propeck this noon tell of a terrific snow storm whipping over the mountains, and there is no indication of a let up.

Snow has been falling since yesterday afternoon. At noon today the snow was a foot deep. A heavy wind is blowing and to all appearances the snow will reach even a greater

NOME STORM DAMAGE BIG

MILLION AND A HALF LOSS IS ESTIMATE.

Alaskan City Half Wrecked—Reports Show None Were Killed.

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 7.—Nome lies half wrecked from the effects of a heavy gale that piled the waters of the sea in the streets, tearing out half the business section of the town and wrecking hundreds of houses.

Today with the storm almost abated an inventory shows at least 500 houses wrecked, but no reports of fatalities. The damage is estimated at a million and a half. Famine threatens the people on account of the destruction of the food supplies.

Negro Confesses Murder.

San Diego, Oct. 7.—Burr Harris, the negro held in connection with the murder of Mrs. Gay at Los Angeles, is expected to throw much more light on the murder. To Los Angeles newspaperman and a score of policemen, Harris last night confessed the murder. He said, "Yes, I killed her. I must have been crazy. I have spells when I am queer in the head."

Harris also confessed to the killing of Mrs. Haskins at Los Angeles two years ago. He said that he killed Mrs. Gay with a gas pipe as she was answering the telephone. He gave as a reason that he just wanted to kill the woman. He has made a detailed confession.

THREE PITCHERS FAIL TO STOP PHILADELPHIA BATS

WORLD SERIES IN EPITOME.

Games won—Philadelphia 1, Giants 0.

Pitchers today—Bender, Marquard, Crandall and Tesreau.

SCORE BY INNINGS.

By HAL SHERIDAN.

Polo Grounds, New York City, Oct. 7.—In a game featured by profuse hitting, Philadelphia won the first game in the world's series today, final score six to four. Baker, the hero of old, again distinguished himself by lacing out a home run in the fifth inning with one on.

The Athletics got to Marquard early in the game and he was pulled out for Crandall but Crandall fared no better in the hands of the mighty Philadelphians and Tesreau went to the hill to finish. Bender was the sole pitcher for the visitors but though he was mailed for a total of 11 hits, managed to get away with the contest easily enough. Good hitting behind him helped win for him.

Three thousand people were in line at daylight waiting for the opening of the ticket office at the polo grounds. A heavy mist falling, that turned to a drizzling rain later in the forenoon but when the gates opened at 9:30, 30,000 people poured into the gate. The seats were occupied by the noon hour.

The Batting Order.

New York and Philadelphia line-ups and batting order follow:
Philadelphia—Murphy, right field; Oldring, left field; Collins, second; Baker, third base; McInnes, first base; Strunk, center field; Barry short stop; Schang, catcher; Bender, pitcher.

New York—Shafer, center field; Doyle, second base; Fletcher, short stop; Burns, left field; Herzog, third base; Murray, right field; Meyers, catcher; Merkle, first base; Marquard, pitcher.

Umpires: National, Klem and Rigler; American: Egan and Connelly.

Three hundred and seventy, outside newspaper men, are covering the series and a hundred special wires are running to the press boxes. At 1:30 the last two dollar seats had been sold and the crowd swept into the bleachers. The Giants appeared in the field at 12:50 and were given a rousing reception.

The Athletics appeared two minutes later. The Giants appeared in new hosiery and hats. The opposing players shook hands. The Athletics wore the same muddy uniforms in which they have worked all year. Mayor Kline presented McGraw with a huge silver vase which was filled with roses.

The game was won in this way:

First Inning.
Philadelphia—Murphy flew out on a long drive to Murray, but Oldring singled only to be caught off first base, Marquard tossing to Merkle. Collins singled and Baker went out on a fly to Burns in left field. No runs.

New York—Shafer flew out to Murphy in right field, and Doyle flew out on a long fly to Strunk. Fletcher followed with a single but was caught stealing, Schang pegging to Collins at second on a close decision. No runs.

Second Inning.

Philadelphia—McInnes went out on a grounder to Herzog, being caught at first. Strunk fanned and Barry followed with a grounder to Fletcher, being tossed out at first handily. No score.

New York—Burns fanned and Herzog went out to McInnes unassisted. Murray singled but died on bases as Meyers' fly to left field was taken in hand by Oldring. No score.

zog went out to McInnes unassisted.

Murray singled but died on bases as Meyers' fly to left field was taken in hand by Oldring. No score.

Third Inning.

Philadelphia—Schang flied out to Burns in left field and Bender went out, Fletcher to Merkle. Murphy singled but was forced at second by Oldring, Fletcher doing the unassisted putout. No scores.

New York—Merkle singled, and started the scoring machinery. Marquard sacrificed him, McInnes taking an unassisted put out. Shafer flew out on a sharp drive to Strunk in centerfield but Doyle showed his ability to come back after the auto accident and singling, scoring Merkle. Fletcher flew out to Murphy and one run had been scored.

Fourth Inning.

Philadelphia—Collins led off with a tripple, indicating Marquard's weakness. Baker followed with a single, scoring Collins and McInnes sacrificed to Merkle. Strunk hit to Marquard who threw Baker out at third; Barry doubled and Schang tripped, scoring Strunk and Barry. Bender went out, Marquard to Merkle. Three runs scored.

New York—Burns started the batting bee again for the Giants, with a double, and Herzog hit to Bender, who threw Burns out, the play being Bender to Collins to Baker. Murray fanned and Myers was retired on a fly to Left Fielder Oldring. No runs.

Fifth Inning.

Philadelphia—Murphy and Oldring went out, Marquard to Merkle each time. Collins got the first walk and then stole second. Baker jumped into the limelight by lacing out a screaming homer, scoring Collins. McInnes retired the side by going out to a pop up fly to Fletcher at short. Two runs.

New York—Merkle, and McCormick who went to bat for Marquard, —doomed to be benched—both singled but Shafer went out, Collins to McInnes. Merkle and McCormick advanced on the play. Doyle went safe on Barry's low throw from short, Merkle scoring. Fletcher followed with a single, scoring McCormick, Burns forced Fletcher the later going out, Baker to Collins, Doyle scoring on the sacrifice. Herzog retired the inning by a sharp drive to Collins. Three runs scored.

Sixth Inning.

Philadelphia—Crandall took the peerless Marquard's place on the firing line in the sixth inning. Strunk and Barry flew out to Shafer in center field, and Schang flew out to Burns in left.

New York—Murray went out on a grounder to Collins, he throwing the runner out safely at first. Meyers went out on a drive to Bender. Merkle fanned and the inning was over. No runs.

Seventh Inning.

Philadelphia—Bender fanned and Murphy went out, Doyle to Merkle. Oldring lined out a drive to Shafer. No runs.

New York—Crandall went out, Barry to McInnes. Shafer and Doyle singled but Fletcher hit into a double, Barry, Collins and McInnes figuring in the double. No runs.

Eighth Inning.

Philadelphia—Collins and Baker singled, and with Collins on third, McInnes doubled scoring Collins. Crandall was relieved at that point, Tesreau taking his place on the mound.
