

INDUSTRIAL PHASE OF THE FAIR BANNER

RAIN OR NO, PAVILION AND THE STOCK PENS FILL UP RAPIDLY.

RAIN ONLY A DELAY

Gates Swing Open at Noon on Partially Arranged Exhibits Because Out of Town Communities Were In Some Doubt About the Progress of the Fair on Account of Rain Storms.

Rain or no rain, the industrial exhibits at the Union county fair which opened at noon today, are of the highest quality, and plentiful in quantity. The prolonged rain had created a state of indecision all over the valley, and the Imbler community exhibits did not reach the city until this afternoon and will be tastily arranged by tomorrow morning. The Union stock exhibits were delayed in transit but the Union people telephoned their starting hour to the fair management this morning and the 40 odd stalls that the Union stock show is to fill, will be crammed with stock by some hour late this afternoon. The Union school exhibit, which is reputed to be an exceptional one, was started La Grande this morning when it was known that the industrial phase of the fair was to be carried out, rain or shine. The same was true of the Cove school exhibit, and by working extra shifts the management will have everything in inspection shape by the time the gates open tomorrow on the second day of the fair. The local schools and academies already have pretty exhibits in the pavilion, and Superintendent Schilke of the children's department has a big corps of assistants arranging the splendid artistic exhibits. The women's department under Superintendent Rosenbaum, is likewise well filled up, and races or no, the pavilion will be worth the price of admission during the week. The rounding out process was not finished at the noon hour as was hoped for the rain is to blame. There will be nothing left undone tomorrow morning, however.

Superintendent Perry of the poultry department has been housed in the pavilion and was given a far greater display of poultry this morning.

NOME AWAITS OUTSIDE AID

NOME'S HOMELESS AND FOOD-LESS TAKE HEART.

Appeal for Outside Help Meets With Prompt Response.

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 8.—Some progress has been made in the task of reconstructing the wrecked city of Nome. With a scarcity of supplies, however, will prevent any great improvement in the situation until relief arrives from outside. Response to appeals for aid by Mayor Jones, are being received with the assurance that everything needed will be sent at once. Many citizens who lost everything in the storm, will leave as soon as possible.

Summary.

Struck out by Plank, 6; by Matthewson, 5. Base on balls off Plank, 1; off Matthewson, 1. Hit by pitcher, Doyle. Sacrifice hits, Collins and Wiltzie.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—The New York Giants won the second game of the world's series by a score of three to nothing. Neither side scored up to the 10th inning. In the tenth by timely hitting and an error by Philadelphia three Giants scored. The play by innings:

First Inning.

New York—Herzog flied out to Collins, and Doyle went out on a drive to Centerfielder Strunk. Fletcher concluded the half inning by fanning out. No runs.

Philadelphia—Murphy went safe on Doyle's fumble and Oldring singled. Collins sacrificed him, Snodgrass to Doyle, and Baker, the hero, of yesterday fanned. McInnes flied out to Burns. No runs.

Second Inning.

New York—Burns fanned and Shafer was retired on a long fly to Murphy. Murray fanned and no runs were scored.

Philadelphia—Strunk went out, Doyle to Snodgrass, on an easy drive to second base. Barry's long fly to Burns was pulled down and Laph fell for Matthewson's benders. No score.

Third Inning.

New York—McLean popped out to Barry at short and then the Giants found Plank for an unsteady moment. Snodgrass led off with a clean single, and Matthewson followed suit. From third, however, Snodgrass was relieved by Wiltzie. Although the Giants attempted to squeeze Wiltzie in, he was caught at the plate, when Herzog forced the runners. Doyle retired the side and lost the opportunity to score when he flied out to Oldring.

Philadelphia—Wiltzie relieved Snodgrass at first base. Plank went out, Doyle to Wiltzie, and Murphy out, Matthewson to Wiltzie. Oldring went out, Herzog to Wiltzie. No runs.

Fourth Inning.

New York—Fletcher was put out by Barry's throw to McInnes. Burns fanned and Shafer went safe to first on Baker's throw. Shafer died, however when he tried to steal, Laph cut-

TO DEDICATE HALL OCT. 18

DATE POSTPONED FOR BENEFIT OF FAIR.

Big Celebration to Be Held by Odd Fellows on That Date.

The dedication of the Odd Fellows' hall which has recently been completed on Adams avenue at a heavy expense and is one of the most modern and up to date halls in this part of the country for lodge purposes, has been set for October 18. On that night a gathering of Odd Fellows from all over the county will be held and a banquet tendered them. The surrounding towns will send large delegations and a big gathering is anticipated. The local lodge is making great preparations for the event and will be royal host to the members attending.

Philadelphia—Collins was an easy out when his bouncer to Matthewson was tossed to Wiltzie, holding down Merkle's job with satisfaction. Baker singled but McInnes went out on a grounder to Doyle, and through Strunk walked, Barry forced him with a drive to Doyle, giving the captain an unassisted putout. No score.

Fifth Inning.

New York—Murray flied out to Oldring and was followed by McLean's single. Wiltzie bit the dust and fanned, Matthewson drawing four wide ones a moment later. Herzog retired the side by going out, Collins to McInnes. No score.

Laph went out, Doyle to Wiltzie and Plank singled. Murphy flew out to Burns and Oldring forced Plank; Fletcher to Doyle. No runs.

Sixth Inning.

New York—Doyle went out, Plank

By HAL SHERIDAN.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—Despite the misty drizzle which soaked through to the skin, more than a thousand waited all night outside Shibe park, indicating that another crowd of 40,000 would witness the second game in the world's series. At 8 o'clock there were 5,000 in line. At 11 o'clock a light drizzle set in again and the weather bureau predicted the rain would continue but probably would not remain severe enough to prevent the game.

At noon the mist again disappeared and a light breeze from the east eliminated the chill. At 12:20 the gates were opened and thousands of fans filed into the field. The heavy base lines appeared muddy. Hundreds of persons were perched upon the house tops overlooking the grounds.

The Athletics appeared on the field at 1 o'clock and the Giants followed a few minutes later. Baker was loudly cheered by the fans.

Johnson, the Washington twirler, was presented with an automobile before the game for being the most valuable player in the American league. At 1:30 the stands were filling rapidly and the bleachers were packed. Snodgrass started out first for New York. It is not believed that the crowd today will exceed 30,000.

Merkle Out of Game.

First Baseman Merkle, of the Giants, who twisted his ankle in yesterday's game, is unable to stand on that foot today and will be out of the game today and probably the rest of the series. At 11 the gates of Shibe park were still closed and there were 8,000 persons waiting outside.

to McInnes and Fletcher flew out to McInnes. Burns went out on a drive to left field. No score.

Philadelphia—Collins fanned and Baker went out, Fletcher to Wiltzie and McInnes fanned.

Seventh Inning.

New York—Shafer flew out to Strunk and Murray to Barry. Oldring took in McLean's long drive. No score.

Philadelphia—Strunk lined one to Burns, and Barry went out on a drive to third base that Herzog handled neatly. Lapp singled and Plank lined an easy one to Fletcher. No score.

Eighth Inning.

New York—Wiltzie out, Collins to McInnes. Matthewson flew out to Murphy and Herzog to Strunk. No score.

Philadelphia—Murphy went out, to Wiltzie, unassisted. Oldring followed suit when Fletcher handled his grounder back to first. Collins and Baker singled, but McInnes forced Collins, Herzog doing it unassisted.

Ninth Inning.

New York—Doyle flied to Strunk and Fletcher singled. Burns walked and Shafer flew out to Oldring. Murray drove a long one to Murphy.

Philadelphia—Strunk and Barry singled, Strunk reaching third and Barry went to second on Doyle's error. Lapp forced Strunk at the plate. Wiltzie to McLean, and Plank forced Barry at same station, Wiltzie to Matthewson. Murphy went out on a little bingle to Matthewson and the game went to the 10th inning.

Tenth Inning.

New York—McLean singled but he could not run, due to an injury in running and Grant went on the bases. Wiltzie sacrificed, Matthewson singled scoring Grant and Herzog hit to Collins who threw wild to Barry, Matthewson taking third and Herzog second. Doyle was hit by the pitcher and Fletcher followed with a single, scoring Matthewson and Herzog. Burns fanned and Shafer went out to Murphy.

Philadelphia—Wilson took McLean's place. Oldring went out, Herzog to Wiltzie and Collins fanned. Baker went out on an easy hit to Doyle.

SULZER NEARS COLLAPSE FROM HEAVY BURDENS

FRIENDS ALARMED AT THE EVIDENCE OF A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN.

SECRETARY BARES SECRETS

Sulzer Is Claimed to Have Destroyed Evidence of Campaign Receipts and Disbursements Very Carefully—Sulzer's Secretary Forced to Reveal the Workings of Governor's Office.

Albany, Oct. 8.—Governor Sulzer showed signs of extreme nervousness today and friends are worried by the fears that he will suffer a complete breakdown. Lawyers are trying to persuade him not to take the stand in his own behalf but he is obstinate. Under cross examination Louis Sarecky, the governor's secretary, was forced into further and somewhat damaging admissions but his is still a good witness for the defense to the extent that he held to the story that he and not the governor should be blamed for any carelessness or misconduct in the handling of Sulzer's campaign money, but it is generally considered doubtful if the court will accept, as true, his assertion that his employer knew nothing of any of the remarkable things the witness acknowledged. He destroyed all the campaign record of receipts and expenditures, Sarecky said, as well as cancelled the check stubs connected with the case.

Defense Rests Case.

Albany, Oct. 8.—The defense in the Sulzer impeachment case, rested this afternoon without calling the governor to the stand.

SPECIAL RACES TOMORROW.

One of the best races that the city of La Grande will see this week is the 2:08 pace which will be run tomorrow afternoon. In addition to this fast event, there will be a 2:25 special, featuring these horses: Kismet, owned by Childers; Royal Meath, owned by Rogers; Cantleis, owned by Warren Denn; Amy McKinney, owned by Johnson and The Scout, owned by Johnson. The condition of the track this afternoon warrants the arrangement of these fast races for tomorrow afternoon. Races start at 2:00 o'clock.

Lane Veterans Meet This Week.

Eugene, Or., Oct. 7.—The annual reunion of the Lane County Veterans' association will be held in Eugene on Friday and Saturday of this week. Several hundred veterans of the Civil War are expected to take part in the exercises, which include a "campfire" Friday evening at the court house and a banquet Saturday noon.

EUROPE AGOG OVER 'RITUAL' MURDER TRIAL

RUSSIAN OFFICIALS FORCE EVIDENCE AGAINST JEWISH YOUTH.

JUSTICE QUICKLY DENIED

To Enforce Belief That Jews Slaughtered Young Man as Passover Feast Offering, Russian Officials Take Particular Pains to Exclude Defense Evidence—Hundreds Attend.

Kieff, Oct. 8.—After lying in jail for two years and a half, Mendel Bellis was placed on trial today in the criminal section of the Kieff district court for "ritual murder". On account for "ritual murder." On account the case has attracted throughout Europe, the courtroom was packed by a cosmopolitan throng when Judge Boldyreff and his associates mounted the bench and began the impaneling of a jury. The regular venire for the court term from which the jury was chosen consisted of four men with a university education, fourteen with an intermediate or elementary education, fifteen who have not attended any school, but who have received some domestic education, and three who are quite illiterate. More than 200 newspapersmen from various countries, had previously applied for seats, but so great was the demand made by the friends of both local and St. Petersburg officials that many of the correspondents had to stand in the back of the room, and some, although holding tickets, failed altogether of admission. Conspicuous among the reporters was a personal representative of M. Stecheglovitoff, minister of justice, who had been instructed to wire a running detail account of the proceedings to his chief in St. Petersburg. From the inception of the case the ministr yof justice had carefully directed the activities of the local prosecutors, Brandrof and Chaplinsky, and it was with the full approval of the central government that the charge of "ritual murder" was made in the original indictment.

Ever since the morning of April 1, 1911, when the mutilated body of Andrei Muschinsky, a 12-year-old Christian boy, was found in an abandoned brick-yard just outside Kieff the prosecution has been endeavoring to establish the theory that he was slain in accordance with an alleged Jewish rite prescribed by the Talmud, so that his blood might be used in making passover bread. For centuries the ignorant and superstitious Jew-baiters of Russia have clung to the
