Veal Market Rules Lower.
Market for veal is ruling lower in the produce trade. Cleanups of good quality were reported Saturday afternoon down to 11 1/2c a pound, but some sales are reported in a limited way a fraction above this.

Hog Market In Good Shape.
Market for country killed hogs is in good shape along Front street. Values are being firmly held at 12c a pound for best offerings but it is believed that a fraction more than this will be forced if receipts fail to grow within the next few days.

Rye Flour Is Higher Here.
An advance of 50c a barrel is being quoted in the price of rye flour by local cereal interests. The present price is $5.50 a barrel. The same interests have advanced the price of rye meal a similar amount, while split peas are down 50c a hundred pounds.

Peach Trade Is Dragging.
With supplies of peaches still almost as heavy as during the flush of the movement, the local market is stagnant. Sales are hard to make even at the lower prices quoted, although the quality is quite fair.

Circus Buys Elgin Horse.

(Elgin Recorder.)
While the A. G. Barnes circus was here Tuesday the manager purchased the saddle horse that Guy Patten recently secured from Ray Norval, paying a handsome price therefor. The horse is a cream color with snow-white mane and tail. His color is far more beautiful than that of the average cream colored horse and he is not only one of the finest specimens of horse beauty ever in this section of eastern Oregon, but he is an exceptionally good saddle horse, and won numerous prizes at stock shows.

The manager of the Barnes circus stated that there would be not attempt made to train the horse but that he would be used only by the manager and in the parades. Another score for Elgin horses!

Great for Children

Growing children need good substantial food—something that will build faster than their ceaseless activity tears down—

Golden Rod Oats are just what a growing child needs and what he likes best. Made of plump, fat Oregon Oats weighing 36 to 40 pounds to the bushel, they contain more meat than any other oats product. You'll find it much easier to prepare them, too.
