

CHUMAS OFF ON BIG TOUR

WELL KNOWN TRAVELERS AND LECTURERS LEAVE.

California and Oregon to Be Visited During Coming Winter.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Chumas started on their winter tour of lecturing this morning. They will stop at The Dalles and then move on to Medford, Milton, Ashland and then lecture in many of the California cities during the coming winter.

Mrs. Chumas was at one time the wife of Prof. O. S. Fowler, the noted phrenologist and lecturer, now deceased. Mr. Fowler was a classmate of Edward Everett Hale, Henry Ward Beecher and a number of other distinguished men, all of national fame. He wrote many books on the laws of human life and many of his works are standard authorities on many subjects. His work entitled "Science of Life," is perhaps the most widely known, and has seen more editions than the standard novels.

Mr. and Mrs. Chumas own 1440 acres of land in the neighborhood of Elgin, where they spend their periods of rest. They will be gone all winter and expect to return to their Elgin home some time in March or April.

Mr. Propeck is in the city today purchasing supplies for the winter, for it will not be long now until trips to La Grande will be difficult.

General Manager Harmon, of the Eastern Oregon Light & Power company was in the city today on business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Williams and little son, James, went to Portland this morning to visit with relatives for a couple of weeks.

J. W. Oliver, of this city, went to Portland this morning to attend the sessions of the federal grand jury. The defendant in the case is charged with the crime of forgery. Mail belonging to another person, containing a check was placed in the defendant's box. He took the check it is said and forged the name of the rightful payee at one of the local banks.

Wm. Griffin, representing a firm of real estate men in the city of Ft. George, B. C., went to Walla Walla this morning in the interest of the firm. Mr. Griffin makes his headquarters in La Grande and has much to say concerning the prospects of the great northwest. He is enthusiastic about the natural resources and beauty of this valley, and thinks that, were he not a Canadian, he would certainly like to be a citizen of La Grande.

J. A. Russell, the newly elected commissioner of La Grande, left this morning for Walla Walla, where he intends to transact business matters for a few days. Mr. Russell did not seem to be flushed with the thought of victory, but took congratulations with his usual modesty and cordiality. He will also look into Walla Walla's system of commission form of government and endeavor to glean from those in charge whatever may be useful to the citizens and the business of this city.

MRS. OLIVER M'COY.

The Neighborhood club will give its annual library benefit next Thursday evening, October 23, at the Presbyterian church at 7 p. m. At this time Mrs. Katherine Oliver McCoy gives her new reading, entitled, "Tomorrow."

This play "Tomorrow," is based upon the timely and popular subject of Eugenics and is perhaps the most popular play with readers at the present time.

A professor of Chicago University says, "Mrs. McCoy in this wonderful play presents the subject of Eugenics in a most forceful way, yet in so delicate a manner as to leave no possible room for offense.

Mrs. McCoy is well remembered in La Grande as the Scotch impersonator. However, she does not appear in Scotch dialect in this reading as "Tomorrow" is an American play, written by an American author. At the Presbyterian church Thurs-and come back to Pendleton early next week.

All members and visiting members of Hope Chapter are urged to be present tomorrow evening. A social hour is arranged for the members at the close of the lodge session.

WARNER STILL WRESTLING.

Is Confident He Can Master Ben Jackson in Next Encounter.

Ed Warner, once of La Grande, now of Walla Walla, passed through the county seat this morning on No. 10 on his way to Baker to witness a wrestling match between Burke and Christiansen. In speaking of his recent contest with the pride of Dayton, Washington, Ben Jackson, Warner had this to say: "Jackson is greatly overrated and I think I will have no trouble in putting his shoulders to the mat in our next encounter. He has worlds of strength but lacks the speed necessary to make a great wrestler. His friends insist that he wrestle me to a finish to settle the question whether he is my superior or not, and I think we will come together on the 15th of November at Dayton, Wash.

I am on my way to challenge the winner in the match there tonight. I was never in better trim in my life. Tell the boys you saw me and say hello." Warner certainly looks the part. He apparently has put on some weight since going to Walla Walla.

"That Million Dollar Look!"

Go and see this Wonderful Photo-Play to Appear at Sherry's Theatre Tonight.

At my own private and personal expense, I have brought to this town one of the greatest picture-plays that has ever been produced.

For years, I have been waiting and hoping for some book, or play, or sermon that would make clear the powerful lesson that this picture shows. It is a lesson that means greater success—business success, social success, personal success to every man who will take it home to himself—and apply it in his daily living.

I brought this picture to Sherry's because I believe that every red-corpuscled American man who sees it can reap a profit from it—and become a bigger man through it—and I want to do my share to get it before as many folks right here at home as I can. It has helped me—I want you to enjoy its help too.

I am not going to spoil your enjoyment, your "thrill" and your excitement by telling you here what the story is. Wait and enjoy the surprise for yourself.

I'm simply going to go on record with the statement that it will grip you from the first exposure to the last scene—and make you say a hundred times "Why wasn't that picture ever thought of before?"

Men have lost untold opportunities; have sacrificed dearest ambitions; have handicapped the hopes of years, purely and solely through a lack of the knowledge that this picture vividly and dramatically imparts.

Men have euchred themselves out of big business gains, have closed the doors to countless success chances, have defeated themselves, not only in business, but in politics, in society—YES, EVEN IN LOVE—because they never studied and mastered the lesson that this picture makes clear to them.

If you want to play the game of success skillfully and victoriously; if you want to be a dominating factor in life's power circles—

DON'T FAIL to See "THAT MILLION DOLLAR LOOK" at Sherry's Theatre Tonight.
