EARLY "SPUD" PRICE BEARISH

INDICATION OF EASTERN CORNER APPARENT OFTEN.

Shortage in the East Great But Price Not Unusually High.

Early reports that the demand for potatoes would be brisk all fall and winter have to be amended somewhat inasmuch as the call for this vegetable has not been strong enough to bolster up the early predictions. That there has been a great shortage in the middle west cannot be denied but the fact that the price is so good has evidently induced those who have potatoes to sell, to get them on the market as soon as possible. For this reason the market is well supplied and the outlook for an early break in the price upward is not looked for. Michigan had a fair crop and most of these are being dumped on the market to the exclusion of those from the western states. As long as there is a fair supply local shippers cannot look for anything like extra good prices, because of the distance. For this reason local buyers are strong all of their purchases for the present in the hope that the market will climb to offset the greater freight rates.

Whether there is a combination to corner the market cannot be ascertained with any degree of certainty, but it would seem that some such restriction was being exercised because the government's report on the shortage of potatoes in the middle west could have no other conclusion than that some pressure was being exerted to keep the price down, just as the price on apples was kept down last year. Just how the scales will turn cannot be predicted and local men are in a quandary to reconcile their former statements with the present condition.

Hay is strong and should be stronger owing to the great shortage in the hay growing belts. But this factor may have something to do with the case, viz: the sale of cattle to the meat packers, irrespective of their condition. Many of the farmers are unable to carry their stock over the winter on account of the shortage of fodder and not require hay. Just how far one thing in this respect will outweigh the other cannot be estimated off hand. But it is likely that during the first months of spring, or even earlier the price is bound to climb and hold at top notch figure.

Tomatoes are hanging on manfully this fall, and though past the season, the local grocers have a few for sale occasionally. The price has gone to 90 cents but even at that figure, the commodity has come to be a luxury for tomatoes are hard to get at any figure. The last vestige of the cucumber is gone too.

If any family is inclined to buy up a store of cabbage, it would be a business move to buy them now for cabbage is credited with being on the rise shortly. They are still selling at two cents, but this may not last long.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally if You Eat Meat Regularly.

No man or woman who eat meat regularly, can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate the motor activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

But Mrs. Pank will have to be some smasher to take the place of the late Carrie Nation in the hearts of the American people.
