WINDS FELL WIRE POLES

LADD CANYON TELEPHONE SYSTEM OUT OF ORDER.

High Winds of Monday and Tuesday Cause Wire Troubles.

Ladd Canyon, Or., Nov. 5.—(Special)—The high south wind of Monday and yesterday has blown down several telephone poles, causing the telephone service in this district to be entirely out of commission today.

Quite a good many of the parents of the neighborhood met at the school house last Friday and ofund the good acquaintance of the teacher, Mr. Hunt, Mrs. F. S. Ivanhoe, the county school superintendent, who was present. Had it not been for the ill weather and so much fall work all of the parents would very likely have been in attendance.

The Misses Minnie, Gladys and Ruth Drumsmith, little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Drumsmith, entertained the younger folks of the neighborhood hallowe'en evening at their home. Each youngster had his own taffy to pull and everything was quite stuck up with candy, but they had one of the best times of their lives and enjoyed the evening spent with the young hostesses.

Dick Peebler has three carpenters at work on his new barn, which will be quite a good sized structure when completed. They have finished the frame work.

Mrs. James Mulholland went to La Grande yesterday to see her sister, Mrs. John French, of South La Grande, who is ill again.

AN ARTFUL ELEPHANT.

He Deserved the Dinner He Got With So Much Cuming.

Here is an amusing tale of an elephant's artfulness told by Mrs. A. M. Landey in "Roughing It in Southern India."

"One very bright moonlight evening while camping on the Brahmagiris we were sitting out in the cool air after dinner when one of the elephants somehow contrived to unbobble himself and walked away from his own quarters into ours. We saw him go up to a sleeping native, snuff at his pillow and then ever so gently draw it away with his trunk. At the same time he edged his own foot under the man's head and shoulders that no jerk might be felt.

"The pillow was a bag of rice, put there for safety against pilferers. Although tied up in a knot, the bag was deftly opened and its contents devoured to the very last grain, the thief looking watchfully round him the while.

"We were not likely to disappoint him of his cleverly won feast, as he seemed to know, for, just letting his tiny eyes rest on us unconcernedly for a second or two, he fell to considering his next move.

"He drew a stone toward him with the ever handy trunk and got it under the empty sack. Then he worked both together under the man's head. Finally he stealthily withdrew his own foot, and, having waited no longer than was necessary to make sure he had left all safe, he moved off."

ON THE BRINK OF NIAGARA.

Three Hours of Peril, but He Still Clutched His Knife.

On the afternoon of June 1, 1872, an old painter named William McCullough while painting the bridge above Niagara falls between the first and second Sister Islands fell into the rapids. Instantly he was swept furiously toward the cataract, but whirled into lesser waves, so that he struck against and seized a rock not far above the brink.

Hundreds quickly gathered on the shore and watched, all eager to help, but ignorant what to do. Among them was Thomas Conroy, who secured a coil of rope, fastened one end to a tree on shore and with the other end in his hand waded out as far as he could and occasionally swam, the water being from eighteen inches to six feet deep.

He aimed far up stream to allow for the power of the current and at last with great difficulty reached the unfortunate painter and bound him to himself with the rope. They were swept off their feet several times on the way back to shore, but the rope had been firmly fastened, and they finally landed safely.

When they reached shore it was found that McCullough still clutched his putty knife firmly in his hand, having held it during the three hours he had been on the brink of the falls.

Avoid the Bronchial Coughs of Early Fall.

The changeable weather of early fall brings on bronchitis and a hard cough that is wearing on the system, and seems to tear open the bronchial tubes and mucus lining of the throat. Use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound promptly. For it will soothe and heal the inflamed mucus lining, relieve the cough quickly, and help to expel the cold. It contains no opiates. Get the genuine in the yellow package and refuse substitutes. A. T. Hill.
