MILLS FOUND GUILTY.

Jury Returns Verdict in Assault and Battery Case at Noon Today.

M. A. Mills was this afternoon found guilty of assault and battery. The jury in the case was out but a short time, bringing in a verdict about the noon hour.

The forenoon was partially taken up with arguments in the case of the State vs. Murchison. Murchison is charged by the state with violating the trespass laws, and this afternoon arguments were heard in the case of State vs. Newlin. The defendant's counsel was the same as at the last trial, Attorneys Finn and Cochran & Eberhard. The motion involved is a technical one pure and simple.

The Murchison case did not come to trial but was postponed until Monday and the case of State vs. Morelock came up for immediate consideration. This involves an Elgin man and many witnesses are being subpoenaed for the case.

A decision in the Newlin case is coming tomorrow morning.

PEACE NOW IN SIGHT.

Indianapolis, Nov. 7.—Peace is in sight between the street car men and officials of the company. The officials have agreed to arbitrate the differences, because they find public opinion hopelessly against them. Even the militia men are in open sympathy with the strikers and unless the company arbitrates there will be a general walkout of all union men in the city. The troops have not been called on and martial law has not been declared. It is believed that President Todd has accepted the proposal to let the public service commission arbitrate the matter, although this has not been announced.

adopted plans have been initiated and are being carried on by the administration to get rid of the floating warrant indebtedness as such. This matter requires the most careful technical procedure in order to meet with the approval of bond attorneys and the council are of the opinion that such procedure can only be legally carried out by the commission and have therefore suggested that the latter qualify.

HYMN OF THE EARLY CHRISTIANS.

The rising sun bids us awake And prayer to our Creator make. Benedicamus Domino!

His hand hath kept us through the night And led us safely to the light. Benedicamus Domino!

Our tongues restrain we through the day That, blameless, they at eve may pray. Benedicamus Domino!

Our thoughts contain, our senses guard. We serve the vineyard of the Lord. Benedicamus Domino!

All worldly appetites repress And ever our Creator bless. Benedicamus Domino!

Thus, daylight passed, to God on high Once more with hallowed lips we cry. Benedicamus Domino! —From Ave Maria.

German Service Sunday.
