GEDDES FUNERAL SET FOR SUNDAY

INTERMENT TO TAKE PLACE FROM L. D. S. TABERNACLE

Long Illness and Death Leaves Large Circle of Bereaved Mourners

Remains of Donna Reid Geddes, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Geddes, who died yesterday afternoon after an illness of acute nature lasting for nine and a half weeks, will be laid to rest Sunday afternoon. The funeral will be held at the L. D. S. tabernacle at 2 o'clock. It is likely that many high officials of the L. D. S. church and relatives from Salt Lake, Ogden, Idaho points, Seattle, Baker and other nearby points will be in attendance, and the funeral is delayed so that they may reach here in time for the funeral.

The last illness of Miss Geddes was particularly distressing. When young she suffered with a severe attack of rheumatism and scarlet fever, and it left her heart weak. She was never strong from that date on, but almost ten weeks ago, she was sent to bed, and has been at death's door continuously from that date until yesterday afternoon at 3:20 when the life lamp went out. The bereaved family has all the sympathy that a large, warm friendship circle can bestow.

Donna Reid Geddes was born in Salt Lake in 1892, and 12 years ago came to Oregon with her parents. For two years they lived at Baker, where Mr. Geddes was connected as manager with the mercantile department of the Oregon Lumber company.

While in La Grande, deceased grew to womanhood, respected and loved by all who knew her. She leaves to mourn her untimely death her father and mother, and Waldo, Irma, Fern, Grant, Reed and Margaret.

SHOW DRAWS SPECIAL TRAIN

PRINCE OF TONIGHT TO SHOW AT ELGIN

Special Train to Be Run From La Grande to Municipal Theater

Bettye Caldwell, the half-breed who plays a prominent part in "Prince of Tonight."

Owing to the Steward opera house closing in this city, some road attractions are forced to pass through La Grande, but "The Prince of Tonight" company, one of the well known Hough, Adams & Howard musical successes, is the first of the big road shows to give Elgin a tryout. They will play Elgin Wednesday night, Nov. 19th, and will run a special train from La Grande to Elgin and return, stopping at way stations to accommodate all who desire to see this excellent attraction.

"The Prince of Tonight" has been one of the best advertised attractions ever booked over the Short Line, as the music is equalled by no other musical comedy.

The company travels in two special cars and the production will be staged in the new theater at Elgin the same as in any of the larger cities.

The Arcade theatre could amply handle the "Prince of Tonight" but that fact was not known until bookings were complete for this show. "In all my experience I have never seen so perfect a theatre in a town of that size, as Elgin has," said Advance Agent Rolles while here today. "The theatre seats over 600 and is up to the minute in every respect."

PIONEER MASON DEAD

One of the First Masons of Eastern Oregon Dead at Union

Thos. H. Foster, for many years a respected and prosperous citizen of the Grande Ronde valley, passed away yesterday at his home in Union at the age of 80. It is thought death resulted from heart failure, but that is not definitely known. Mr. Foster came to the valley in the 60s and lived in Union and La Grande ever since. He was a member of the Methodist church and one of the charter members of the first chapter of Masons instituted in eastern Oregon. For a number of years he had been ailing, suffering principally in the loss of his hearing and from occasional attacks of heart trouble. The end came peacefully.

The deceased is survived by his aged wife and several children, among whom are Mrs. May Sims of this city, Mrs. R. E. Driscoll of Great Falls, Mont., Harlow Foster, Summerton, Arizona and Frank Foster of Union. Mrs. Sims and children, Helen, Marjorie, Foster and Lillian, in company with Mrs. Jack Childs, went in Union this morning to attend the funeral.

COL. IVANHOE OUT AGAIN

County Attorney Able to Be at His Office Once More

Colonel Ivanhoe is back in his office after a siege in the hospital. Mr. Ivanhoe has been of an unusually healthy constitution and the short indisposition will leave no lasting traces it is hoped. He is somewhat emaciated and a little rest will restore him to his pristine vigor and strength.

Able to Quit Hospital Mrs. French of South La Grande is able to be removed from the hospital, where she has been a few days for treatment.

LONG JOURNEY ENDS

Mr. and Mrs. George Ball Home From Trip Through Middle West

During a four months absence from the city Mr. and Mrs. George Ball visited the Michigan home-coming festivities, called on old time friends as far north as Mackinaw City, went over to Canada and traveled through much of the middle west.
