BIG SPLASH NEAR AT HAND

Harvard is picked to win, and should win Saturday. If the crimson lives up to expectations, Captain Storer's team will turn the trick of having defeated Yale in two successive years for the first time in history. Harvard came out on top last year by a score of 20 to 0, and the tacking on of another victory without a break will establish precedent. They are not very strong for breaking precedents in the staid section of the country where "Yalers" and "Harvarders" are cultivated.

In this coming conflict Yale has two big things against her and one in her favor. Against Yale is arrayed Brickley, Harvard's great fullback, and the Blues' weakness. Precedent alone that a few healthy wallops, such as Charles Brickley is capable of dealing, usually puts precedent talk on the blink. No mention of Harvard is complete without Brickley, or possibly it should be put in another way, as it is necessary in making yourself clear to let it be known just where this young man holds forth. It was a narrow squeak for the crimson when they met Princeton. Brickley's toe alone brought the decision. He is undoubtedly the greatest drop kicker ever developed in the country. He shoots them over with unerring aim from the 35 or 50-yard line without an effort. As an open field runner he has few equals. His team mate, Eddie Mahan, playing halfback, probably can come closer to Brickley than any other man in this department. Both twist, turn and wiggle through a broken field and it takes a hard, sure tackle to bring them down.

Before the Princeton game Harvard was credited with having the greatest backfield and greatest line in the country. This proved to be largely a myth. Princeton out-rushed Harvard, and Streit, the Tiger fullback, ripped through the line for big gains. The backfield is great only when Mahan or Brickley are in line. Hardwick is a reliable halfback and an excellent punter, but many are his equal. Bradley showed himself to be nothing more than an average back. Capt. Storer is a great end, but other members of the team showed little to distinguish them from the average good varsity player of the day.

Yale has plowed along in a bad ditch throughout the season. Injuries have kept blue regulars out of the lineup and the team sent against Harvard will be shy five of the best men in the Yale camp. Cornish, the best quarterback developed, was put out with a broken shoulder and others have been in and out on the hospital list. When Colgate defeated Yale the blue reached the lowest ebb of the year. Since then the work was to

LIBRARY AT ENTERPRISE

REALIZATION OF CASH FROM CARNEGIE NEAR

Excellent Building is Nearing Completion at Enterprise

The new library building of Enterprise is nearing completion. Owing to the failure of the city council to meet sooner the contract has just now been ratified. Dr. C. T. Hackett, president of the library board, is also one of the members of the city council and it was mainly through his energetic pushing that the library now graces the city with its presence. It was he who suggested the idea and took up the matter with the Carnegie commission and secured the co-operation of that body. Up to the present time no money has been received from the Carnegie commission, but it is hoped that now that the contract has been ratified by the city council the money will be forthcoming in the near future. Enterprise has the distinction of being the smallest town in the state to have a Carnegie library.

The building is 34x60 feet, including small additions. There is an apartment for adult readers and another for children. Between these is the delivery room and back of this latter room is the reference room.

It is thought the building will be ready for occupancy by the 15th of December. An appropriate celebration of some kind will be arranged for the occasion of opening and several wealthy persons are said to have promised donations in books to the new library.

Bunting & Block of this city designed the building and superintended the work. The library board is composed of five women and two men. It was through the energy and tact and sticktoitiveness of the women principally that the details of the building were worked out.

With other improvements on the way Enterprise will in the near future be a city of considerable consequence and everybody in this valley will wish them success and godspeed in the new venture.

Notice to Contractors

Bids will be received for the excavation of the basement for the Y. M. C. A. building, the rough work to be done this fall and winter at the pleasure of the contractor and the finishing work to be done during the month of April, 1914. Bids should be at certain price per cubic yard and the yardage to be determined by survey. Details can be obtained from the architect, Milton S. Block. Bids to be handed to W. H. Bohnenkamp on or before November 24, 1913.

At same time bids will also be received for the delivery of the sand and gravel for the construction of the building.

W. H. BOHNENKAMP,
Chairman of Building Committee.

COFFEE

Avoid the Bronchial Coughs of Early Fall.

The changeable weather of early fall brings on bronchitis and a hard cough that is wearing on the system and seems to tear open the bronchial tubes and mucus lining of the throat. Use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound promptly. For it will soothe and heal the inflamed mucus lining, relieve the cough quickly, and help to expel the cold. It contains no opiates. Get the genuine in the yellow package and refuse substitutes. A. T. HILL build for Princeton and Harvard and the results of this work will be shown Saturday. Harvard has won but six games from Yale since the two universities started playing football in 1875.
