PERSONALS.

Professor Armstrong made his regular weekly trip to Imbler this morning.

William Miller, the local real estate dealer, went to North Powder yesterday on business.

Mrs. Dahlstrom of Cove was in the city, the guest of Mrs. C. J. Black for a number of days. She returned yesterday.

John Taynor of Salt Lake arrived yesterday to be the guest of his son, Jacob H. Taynor, for a day. Today he leaves for Tacoma.

Rev. Smits, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Elgin, was in the city on business.

Mrs. George Belden of La Grande went to Summerville this morning to visit friends for a number of days.

F. M. Roop, who was attending the institute, left this morning for Wallowa, where he is employed in the teaching profession.

Mrs. George Divine of Walla Walla passed through La Grande this morning on her way to Summerville, where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Smith.

L. D. Robinson, who recently came here from Kentucky, has been appointed pastor of the Baptist church at Enterprise and will move to that city in a few days. Mr. Robinson came here primarily on account of the health of his wife and states that she is rapidly improving.

J. R. Miller, who for a number of years was employed at Cherry's new laundry, stopped off in La Grande yesterday on his way to Houston, Texas, where his mother lives. He went from here to Los Angeles, but found that there are six persons for every job and decided to come back to a country where working conditions were more favorable.

A. T. Doyle of Union was in the county seat on business returning yesterday.

A large force of teachers left this morning for their homes in Enterprise, Wallowa, Elgin and Joseph, after attending the institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Ledbetter of North Powder arrived in La Grande this morning on business.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Williamson left this morning for Kamela on official business.

A. F. Stafford of La Grande left this morning for Hot Lake where he will hunt ducks for the day.

Dr. Malcolm Irvine of North Powder arrived in the city this morning on professional business.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hawley of La Grande left this morning for Walla Walla to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Owsley on Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Jensen of North Powder passed through the city this morning enroute to Imbler where they will spend Thanksgiving.

Vernon Bramwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Bramwell was seriously ill last night with an attack of the croup. He is reported better this morning.

Mrs. Lou Given and daughter, Lois, left this morning for Portland, where they will be guests of their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Forest, on Thanksgiving.

Miss Minnie Kuljis and children left this morning for Pendleton, where they will make their future home. Mr. Kuljis for some time conducted a fish market in the Foley annex.

Carl Stackland of Cove, L. G. Seaton of Freewater, H. S. Sommer of Elgin, Fred Falconer of Enterprise, and F. S. Slater of Canyon City are guests at the Foley.

George M. Cornwall, editor of the Timberman of Portland, is in the city today. He is making his annual "round-up" of the output of the Eastern Oregon mills.

E. J. Conrad of Summerville left this morning for Meacham, where he will transact business during the day. He reports that the fall sowing never looked better and that prospects are very promising.

Mrs. George Curry returned yesterday from Eugene and Forest Grove, where she visited her daughter and son at the respective towns. She was accompanied home by her father, A. C. Huntington.

The following out of town valley citizens are stopping at the Savoy: Max Wilson, Enterprise; Vance Thomas, Paradise; J. M. Gasset, Cove; W. E. Wade, Imbler; A. L. Taylor and son, Alicel; Giles Plass, Wallowa; D. A. Barnes, Elgin; Chas. Smith, Alicel; John Clark, Alicel; Dorothea Bennet, Baker; Anna Fisher, Enterprise.

J. C. Gardner and A. T. Hill have Gratitude.

"I helped an intoxicated man out of the gutter several weeks ago and put him aboard a car."

"Yes?"

"The other day he wrote to the police asking them to find my address."

"Ah, I see. He wants to force $10.000 on you."

"No. He says he thinks I must have pinched his watch."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Vote Getting.

"How do you expect people to listen to your speeches if you don't make your ideas clear?"

"I don't want 'em to listen," replied Senator Sorghum. "I simply want to talk enough to get a good crowd to gather and then shake hands with everybody."—Washington Star.

Wanted Tone.

"And when they call up from the office, dear, and ask what's the matter with you, shall I say indigestion?"

"Indigestion! Nobody has indigestion now. Do you want to disgrace me? Tell 'em it's complicated ptomaine!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Vicious.

"My hand," said Polly, holding out that exquisite member, "is a good deal smaller than yours."

"Yes," said Mabel. "I can see that at a glance. That ring Reginald gave you was always too tight for me." Judge.

Without care and method the largest fortune will not, and with them almost the smallest will, supply all necessary expenses.—Lord Chesterfield.

purchased new Buick cars through the Bolton Bodmer company. They are of the 1914 type and have all of the latest additions in luxury, including self starter and electric lights. The cars are twenty-eight horse power machines, with grey bodies and black running gear. The local agents also have a runabout Buick which they will use in their business.
