FREIGHTER IS LAID TO REST

FUNERAL SERVICES OVER LOUIS SCHNEIDER HELD

North Birch Street Resident Buried at Peach Cemetery Today

Funeral services were held this afternoon over the remains of Louis Schneider, who was erroneously reported yesterday as being a resident of Union. Mr. Schneider lived on North Birch street. Rev. W. C. Dahn officiated and the body was interred in the Peach cemetery.

Mr. Schneider was born in the year 1846 in the town of Gressen, Germany, and came to the valley in 1864. For many years he was a freighter on the OJ Oregon trail, running from Silver City and Boise. In 1891 he married Mrs. Mae Roche, daughter of Grandville and Ada Ashme. One daughter named Dora was born to them. Prior to his marriage to Mrs. Roche, in 1883, he purchased the 215-acre farm which he cultivated many years. Frugality and the inborn native thrift helped him to accumulate a comfortable fortune. He was a peaceable and industrious neighbor and enjoyed the respect and confidence of all his neighbors and townsmen.

Prior to his death he had been suffering from heart disease and this was the immediate cause of his death.

sembled educators that the plea for better reading in the schools has more back of it than mere sound and agitation. Miss Newlin chose this piece of literature on account of the difficulties it involved and the extremely practical lesson. It was an extreme argument and well delivered.

Mrs. A. L. Richardson pleased the audience with her rendition of the "Polonaise" from Mignon. The "Polonaise" is one of the more florid songs of that opera and gave Mrs. Richardson unusual latitude in displaying her marvelous technique. She sang with all the ease and daintiness which the proper interpretation demands. She responded with a very pretty encore.

LISTER'S BOLD EXPERIMENT.

He Used His First Draining Tube on Queen Victoria.

A strange anecdote is related in the life of Lord Lister by Dr. G. T. Wrench. It seems that Lister actually used Queen Victoria as the first subject of one of his great experiments.

Shortly after taking up the chair of surgery in Edinburgh, according to Dr. Wrench, Lister was called to Baltimore to operate on the queen for an abscess. Dr. Wrench goes on to say: "The operation was successful. Lister put in a strip of carbolic lint to keep the wound open for drainage. But, unfortunately, the matter of the abscess did not come away properly, and the queen was still feverish and in pain."

"Lister, disturbed by this unfavorable course, walked alone in the grounds of Baltimore, a lonely walk being his custom when he had a difficult problem to solve. During his cogitations it occurred to him that a piece of India rubber tubing might form an excellent path of exit to the discharge of a wound. It is illustrative of Lister's bold faith in himself that, though his patient was the highest lady in the land, he did not hesitate to make her the first subject of his experiment."

"He returned from his walk, cut a piece of tubing from the spray apparatus and soaked it all night in carbolic. In the morning he made use of it."

"The queen made a rapid and complete recovery. Lister, confirmed by his royal experiment, adopted rubber drainage tubes as a part of his practice."

Knew His Patient.

"My advice to you, sir," said the physician as he diagnosed the case of the dyspeptic, "is to change your hotel. Go over to the Derrington and live for awhile."

"Why, doctor," said the patient, "the food at the Derrington isn't any better than that at the Merrington?"

"I know that," said the physician, "but the Derrington is run on the European plan, and you have to pay for what you eat there, sir."—Judge.

Cause For His Love.

"Did you ever really love any girl before you met me?" asked the beautiful one.

"No," replied the titled foreigner; "you are the first girl I have ever known who had money in her own right."—Judge.

Just So.

"I like to see city employees busy all the time."

"I prefer seeing the fire department idle."—Washington Herald.

Success too early achieved becomes a millstone on the neck of effort.

ALUMNI-HIGH GAME AT HAND

REFEREE'S WHISTLE TO SOUND TAPS THIS YEAR

Both Squads Are in Readiness for Gruelling Game Tomorrow

Tomorrow at 2:30 the referee's whistle will blow for the last time in La Grande this year.

The field will be in the best of shape and beautiful weather is promised. The warm weather and rain has softened. The game will no doubt be a combination of both the old and new football, as the high school squad will use every play they have been given this year, combining the old line bucking with the most up to date open field work. Coach Reynolds will be in the lineup and this will strengthen the scholastic team as a real general has been lacking this year. The alumni with their heavy line and experienced backfield will make hard going for the lighter highs and will depend largely on weight for their gains. An interesting feature of the game will be the kicking contest between the veteran Childers and Conkey, the high school kicking star.

It is hoped that a large crowd will attend as this is the last chance to see a game this year and both teams anticipate putting their best into the game. The high school fund gets the returns and the purse there needs the money. A banquet will be tendered both the alumni and high school teams as a reward for soreness and hard knocks. Poe Caylor, veteran coach and football brains, will referee, but other officials have not been decided upon.

The lineup for the alumni has not been definitely determined, but the high school will use about the same lineup as before this year.

PEDAGOGUE MASTER'S LOGUE

Laughing Fit Stopped Abruptly When Madam School Teacher Acts

Shortly Logue, alias John Logue, is said to have met his Waterloo at the hands of a dainty school "marn." Martin King is authority for the statement that "Shorty" was making life hideous in the lobby of the Foley. He happened to remember one of those corking stories and had just come to the climax when a burst of applause rent the air. "Shorty" got the giggling bug and could not for the life of himself control the risible instinct. At that point an intrepid little pedagogue sailed over to the right flank of Monsieur Shorty and with a dainty little tap on the shoulder motioned him to beat it—that is, make himself disappear. Shorty is said to have hied himself to the cold confines of his room until the little Napoleon retreated to the inner seclusion of her room.
