THE GOLDEN RULE COMPANY.

A BIT OF HUMAN NATURE.

How a "Heart Throb Specialist" Got Her First Job.In the Woman's Home Companion appears a confession of a "heart throb specialist"—a newspaper woman who after many failures made a success in New York. Following is her own story of her first success:"I had dropped into a criminal courtroom principally to escape the heat of the street. A young girl was being tried for attempted suicide. Perhaps because my own failure looked so dark I could read real drama between the faltering lines of her testimony.
"Here was an old story to the reporters. I knew they would turn in brief items, bare facts. I talked about the girl with the probation officer assigned to the case, with the girl, with her employers, and I secured photographs. Including one of the corner where she tried to end it all, a cubbyhole much like my own. Then I wrote as if her story were mine.
"With the power born of desperation I forced my way into the presence of a Sunday editor who had spoken a few kind words to me. I begged him to read my story while the girl's case was still in the public eye.
"For a wonder he did read it while I sat beside him. When he finished he touched several buttons, and men fairly tumbled into the room.
"After giving them orders he seemed to recall my existence. He turned and stared at me over his glasses.
"Let's see. You've been in here before, haven't you?
"Yes. I brought you a letter from Mr. Blank of the — News.
"Humph! A story like that is worth thirty letters of introduction. Confounded nuisance letters are. Don't believe in 'em. Sold much stuff?
"Nothing unless you have bought that story.
"His eyes twinkled.
"Oh, I've bought it all right. I forgot to mention we pay $50 for a story like that with the pictures. I suppose that is all right?
"All right?
"I closed my eyes I saw a clean hall room, with a real window ledge over which I could look out upon a quiet city garden. I saw a telegraph operator clicking off a message to an anxious mother. And I tasted beefsteak—thick, juicy, rare!
"When I opened my eyes once more the Sunday editor was at the door. He hung his order over his shoulder:
"Wait till I come back."
"In a few minutes he was seated beside me again, and I could hardly believe my ears. He was offering me a position on the staff!"

In a Dilemma.

"What's the trouble, old man."
"I'm up against it for fair."
"As to how?"
"My liver doctor expressly orders me to eat sugar, and my stomach specialist positively forbids it."—Kansas City Journal

Hopeless.

"So you think that Mrs. Jinks is a failure as a hostess?"
"Yes. She couldn't even entertain a hope properly."—Buffalo Express.
