BARD SINGS A. J.'S PRAISE

BANQUET POEM SPARKLES WITH CLEVER LINES.

Aug. J. Stange Remembered in Poetical Utterances.

Last Saturday evening when La Grande Commercial club members tendered a reception to its retiring president, F. C. Bramwell, register of the local land office read a poem of his own composition apropos the nature of the gathering. It was:

There came to La Grande
A few years ago,
A most worthy citizen,
Whom we all know.
He came in unknown
To the town's noble gang,
He's the guest at our banquet,
Our friend, August Stange.

We all love and respect him,
We adore his good name—
A good fellow well met
And he's always the same.
He has been a great resource
To the town of La Grande,
And in all worthy movements
He has lent us a hand.

He came with good purpose;
He came with much power,
He's affable, congenial,
He's been a "man of the hour."
When he's gone we'll all feel
That vacant place;
But he leaves with our blessings,
He leaves in good grace.

So back to Wisconsin,
Our friend will return,
And he leaves in our bosom
Deep friendship to burn.
But in a few years,
He'll return to La Grande
And we'll be here to greet him,
With good-fellowship's hand.

When he leaves we all know
That our hearts will be sad;
But in his home circle,
Many hearts will be glad.
His mother will greet him,
With affection and love,
That burns in her bosom
As a gift from above.

May fortune continue,
To smile on our friend;
Till his life's journey's over,
Till he reaches the end.
Not fortune and wealth
Of this world's goods alone,
But the fortune of health
In his family and home.

And so, our good friend,
We will bid you good night,
With tokens of fellowship
From our hearts that are right.
On your homeward journey
We all wish you well,
With a friend's good bye
And a fond farewell.

Moneyback means Schilling's Best; and it means the grocer returns a dissatisfied customer's money as quick as he can.

What happens then?

She isn't dissatisfied; can't be.

Who is?

Nobody. The grocer has lost nothing, and she has lost nothing. That's how we look at it.

Schilling's Best was your first definition of moneyback
