Newest of all novelties in the motion picture line is the teaching of the latest and most popular dances. A Kalem film in three parts known as the "Motion Picture Dancing Lessons," will be shown today and tomorrow and is delightfully entertaining as well as instructive. "The Tang," and "Hesitation Waltz," are the principal dances taught, the instructors being Wallace McCutcheon and Joan Sawyer, New York's most noted dancers. They were the sensation at the New York theater roof garden last summer and are now instructors in dancing to the famous "Four Hundred." Every step and movement of popular dances are shown. The result is that the people in the audience receive practically the same instructions as though they

"BURBANK OF DRY FARMING WORLD"

Has Oregon Products at United States Land Show in Chicago

CHICAGO, ILL.—Fate made Tillman Reuter the "Burbank of the Dry Farming World." About ten years ago he left his home in Evansville, Ind., broken in body and spirit, and he went west in quest of health. He not only found health, but won wealth and fame as well. He located in Central Oregon and pioneered it as a cultivator of the dry farming variety. He worked wonders, growing everything in the shape of grains and vegetables that are produced with more ample rainfall.

This year at the International Dry Farming Exposition in Tulsa, Okla., Reuter, for the third consecutive time, swept the boards in competition with the exhibits of the entire North American continent. Louis W. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern railway, has installed a portion of the famous Reuter exhibit in the Great Northern railway's booth at the United States Land Show, which opened Nov. 20th in the Chicago Coliseum. Reuter, meanwhile, is too busy getting ready for his next year's crop to attend the Chicago show. He is out to make it four consecutive "world's championships" by improving his next dry farming congress exhibit.

were actual pupils of the famous dancers.

Rounding out the picture program is a double Biograph comedy that is exceedingly funny, while the show closes with one of the greatest novelty acts seen in months. "Electric" or the "Wizard of Electricity" who does everything with electric "juice" that can be done from lighting cigarettes to demonstrations in the "electric chair," lighting the entire theater by means of carbons held in the teeth; he is in truth a human dynamo.

A CHRISTMAS GIFT FOR ALL

Saturday, December 20, the Observer will send to every home in La Grande a neat, valuable and desirable Christmas gift in the form of the annual Christmas number. First and foremost the edition is to cover the field—reviewing the industrial growth during 1913, touching upon all subjects of interest to the citizen, and furthermore will pictorially tell the story of new buildings in this city during the past 12 months. Handsome cover pages will illuminate the edition. The wonderful expenditure in dollars and cents by the O.-W. in and out of La Grande this year will be graphically told, but that is not all; every principal industry of the city and valley will be touched upon so that La Grande people will be justly proud in folding the edition and sending it on to eastern friends in place of a descriptive letter. It will, indeed, be an edition worthy the name.
