

BAND COMES HERE THURSDAY

Tomorrow noon the O. A. C. Cadet band will come to La Grande to give its program at the high school auditorium tomorrow evening, and later in the evening—10:30 to be exact, will furnish music for the O. A. C. hop at the Elks' hall. The program to be delivered follows:

March, "The University of Pennsylvania".....Seltz
Quartet "Poet and Peasant" Suppe
Tuba Solo "Barbarossa," Barnhouse
O. W. James
Saxophone Quartette.....Hayes
Beck, Taylor, Baker and Holmes
"Slip Horn Stuff".....Barnes
A warm up for Trombones
Grand Selection from Rigoletto, Verdi
Tenor Solo, "A Legend of Kashmir,"
Ross Johnson De Koven
Clarinet Duet, "The Song of the Nests,".....V. Bout
Kennedy and McGinnis
"Home, Sweet Home, the World
Over".....Lamp
March, "The National Cadets" Brown
"Star Spangled Banner."

The programs for this tour are made up with a view of selecting music that those in the audience who are not themselves musicians, can readily understand and appreciate. With this in mind, Captain Beard, the director, decided upon such numbers as "Poet and Peasant," "Rigoletto," and the "Anvil Chorus," from "Il Trovatore." Among the lighter numbers will be found the humorous on "What's the Matter With Father?" and "Home, Sweet Home, the World Over." In the latter number the audience is carried on a tour through Germany, Spain, Italy, Hungary, Ireland, Scotland, Russia and China, getting back in American in time to enjoy a good old American rag. In the former, father goes out with some college boys to have a "time." While he proves himself still to be a "game sport," he is unable to hold the pace set by the younger generation, and ends the evening in a rather sorry state. A novelty number that always scores a big "hit" is "Slip Horn Stuff." This features Messrs. Woodcock, Luxton, Gilmore, and Flannery, in some rapid trombone work with surprising slides much in evidence.
