NEXT WEEK IMPORTANT ONE IN EVENTS OF WORLD IMPORTANCE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—A heavy calendar of business will confront the members of congress when they reassemble Monday after the Christmas recess. Among the most important items on the agenda are the Alaska railroad bill, the proposed Constitutional amendment granting the right of suffrage to women, the La Follette seaman's bill, Panama canal act which will give to American coastwise vessels free tolls, and the proposed amendments to the Sherman anti-trust law. On the last named subject it is expected that President Wilson will send in a special message at an early date.

The third session of Canada's twelfth parliament will be opened Thursday. The sessional programme includes a Redistribution bill, the consolidation of the Railway act, revision of the Shipping Act, amendment to the Civil Service Act, an amendment to the Insurance Act, and a number of other measures. Considerable tariff discussion is forecasted, and it is said the appeal of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Opposition leader, for "free food" is likely to receive attention. What course the Government intends to pursue with regard to the Naval Aid Bill has not been disclosed.

The suit of the Government against the Elgin board of trade, charging violations of the Sherman anti-trust law, is scheduled to be taken up for trial during the week in the United States district court at Chicago.

At Kansas City Dr. B. Clarke Hyde, whose case has attracted national attention for several years, is to be placed on trial for the fourth time on a charge of having murdered Col. Thomas H. Swope, a millionaire philanthropist.

A meeting of the International Joint commission is to begin in Washington Tuesday. The commission will consider the application of the Michigan Northern Power company for authority to build a dam for power purposes at Sault Ste. Marie; also the application of the Greater Winnipeg water district to divert water from Shoal Lake, west of the Lake of the Woods, for the purpose of a water supply for the city of Winnipeg.

Other events that will figure in the news of the week will be the meetings of the legislature of Newfoundland and the state legislatures in New Jersey and Virginia, the mayoralty election in Boston, and the consecration of Rev. Frederick B. Howden as Episcopal bishop of New Mexico.

Among the meetings and conventions or more or less general interest will be those of the Western Golf association at Chicago, the National League of Commission Merchants at Jacksonville, Fla., the National Wool Growers' Association at Salt Lake City, the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers' International Union at Houston, and a conference of Southern commissioners of agriculture at Fort Worth.
