M. I. A. MEET DEFEAT

Baker Wins By a Point and Union By a Wider Margin.

Two games played this week by the M. I. A. on basketball courts at Baker and Union ended in defeat for the home team. Thursday night the M. I. A. were defeated by the Baker Y. M. C. A. at Baker score 29 to 28 in favor of Baker. At Union last night the score was 48 to 17 in favor of Union. The players who participated in the games included Woods, Bean, Larson, Geddes, Elmer and Lester Stoddard, Schofield and Childers.

Special

The Kenworthy Players will open an engagement at the Sherry theater Sunday, presenting the beautiful play, "Lena Rivers." This company has just closed a record week at the Orpheum in Baker, and if offering only the best of plays and between acts up-to-date songs and music. In "Lena Rivers" the company is well cast and a good version of this famous play is used. Comedy and pathos are cleverly blended, making a play that appeals to all. This is a rare opportunity of seeing good plays presented by clever actors. Don't forget Lena at the Sherry, Sunday, 1-16, 2t.

Society

"Jollity" is a fitting nomenclature in connection with the title of the club of young men who entertained for the second time this winter, last Wednesday evening at Rex hall. The Jollity club got away with flying colors and the 90 odd couples in attendance had a most delightful evening of it. The hesitation waltz made its debut at the party, giving added prestige and significance to it. The young men who were such charming hosts for the evening were H. M. Bay, C. O. Ramsey, Walter Francis, Norman Desilet and Chas. Williamson.

The Elks have invented another unique social stunt. This time it is a hardtimes party and is set down for January 21. It is to be hardtimes in every respect and great things are promised if the nature of the invitations are indicative of the main event. The invitations consist of a postal card upon which are real, sure enough pictures of E. E. Kirtley and Norman Desilet imitating some of the down-to-the-minute terpsichorean evolutions.

But this is not all that will keep Elksdom busy during the present season. The Hardtimes ball is to be followed by a dress ball just to let you know that they are fooling. This is going to be a banner society stunt and already costumes are being devised for this. In this, colonial dames will vie for honors with the best that Greece or Rome ever wore, and Bulgarian affectations will fittingly offset gay costumes representing the best Spain ever showed to the world. It will be an eye opener, one of those characteristically Elk doings for which they are noted here in La Grande and elsewhere. "Leave it to the Elks to do things right," is the key note of this feature event. This fancy dress ball will be staged on the 4th of February.

On the 18th they will regale the membership with a regular stag social followed by a minstrel show. Wienie Rogers says it is going to be better than Sarah Bernhard. Some show is the title of this extravaganza, and with Jack Peare in the title role supported by the famous Elk's tooth contingency, a sure enough Bernhard stunt is on the bill. Of course after the stunt will come the big eats, when everything of the chicken will be devoured but the crow. Nothing is said of the feathers.

Miss Mildred Bradford, of Waverly, Illinois, was complimented delightfully Monday evening when Miss Zoe Bragg entertained at Five Hundred for the Illinois guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Girdler, at the Bragg home, 501 Adams. The guests were from the younger ranks of the city. Six tables of guests played cards, honors going to Walter Francis and Miss Ghormley. Delicious refreshments were served during the course of the evening. Miss Bragg's guests to meet Miss Bradford were: Miss Bradford, Miss Grimmitt, Miss Russel, Miss Thiesen, Miss Massee, Miss Claycombe of Wisconsin, Miss Leslie, Miss Eakine, Miss McCall, Miss Ghormley, Miss Oliver and Miss Hershey. Messrs. Walter Francis, Elmer Stoddard, Leo Franch, Charles Reynolds, Will Peare, Joe Williamson, Homer Maris, Walter Reuter, Norman Frees, Wyld and Claycombe.

On Thursday, the 22nd of this month, the Young Ladies Sodality will give their sixth ball, the proceeds of which will be turned over to the church building fund. All of the affairs of this active society of women have been characterized by good attendance, good music and active committee work on the floor, and a general good time. The young ladies have sent out a large number of invitations and the attendance is sure to be above the average inasmuch as no other affair is scheduled for the night.

A party of Macabees and their husbands are going to Hot Lake on Monday night, where they will enjoy themselves at dancing. Ten couples are booked to go and all anticipate a royal good time.

Tuesday night, Jan. 13, the degree staff of La Grande Lodge No. 16, I. O. O. F., went to Baker and initiated a class of four for Elkhorn Lodge No. 166, returning Wednesday morning. A committee met the staff at the station and escorted them to the Underwood Hotel where they had supper, then all went to the I. O. O. F. hall, and after the initiation a fine banquet was served which all enjoyed to the fullest extent. Elkhorn Lodge was declared by all visitors to be entertainers of high order.

Members of the Kaffe Klatch and several special guests for the evening, making in all eleven tables, were entertained last evening by Mrs. Turner Oliver and Miss Margaret Anson, at the Oliver home. Handsome decorations and delicious refreshments went hand in hand with the card features. Mrs. P. S. Robinson and Mrs. F. L. Meyers won honors at cards. The afternoon session of the Kaffe Klatch will be entertained next time by Mrs. E. E. Bragg.

Mrs. Jay Van Buren was a delightful hostess Thursday afternoon to the members of the Bridge club, with her sister, Mrs. Wells of Kansas City, as guest of honor. Favors at cards went to Mrs. W. H. Bohnenkamp. Refreshments harmonious with the occasion, were served by the hostess.

Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wells of Kansas City, were honor guests at the Jay Van Buren home, 808 Main, when Mr. and Mrs. Van Buren entertained at Five Hundred complimentary to the Kansas City guests. The home was tastefully decorated, pink and white color schemes being carried out with profuse use of carnations. Toothsome refreshments were served during the evening. At cards Mrs. Wells, and G. L. Garrison won the favors. Mr. and Mrs. Wells have been the guests of Mrs. Well's relatives in La Grande for the past ten days and while here Mrs. Wells has met her old-time friends with whom she was a co-resident of La Grande during her girlhood and prior to her removal to Kansas City.

Mrs. Robert Pattison and Mrs. P. S. Robinson jointly entertained the members of the Eastern Star social club last Tuesday. Honors at cards went to Mrs. Grace Molitor and Mrs. F. M. Jackson.

A marriage license was this morning issued to Ben Carney and Elizabeth Bohnenkamp, both of this city. The bans were published in the Catholic church for the first time last Sunday. Tomorrow they will be published for the second time and Monday the parties will be married by Father Driscoll at the Catholic church.

The North La Grande Embroidery club was entertained in a very pleasing manner Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Charles Hoak, on Spruce street. Fourteen members and one guest were in attendance during the afternoon and enjoyed the refreshments and sewing which were orders of the day. Two weeks from last Wednesday the Fields home in North La Grande will be the scene of this club's activity, in the evening of that date. The ladies will entertain their husbands. The event will be one of the chief functions undertaken by the North Side Embroidery club this winter.

Mrs. C. M. Lockwood was a gracious hostess to the afternoon section of the Sans Souci Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Holmes will entertain the next gathering of the evening section.

Mrs. E. G. Adcock was hostess to the Happy Hour club yesterday afternoon. A delightful afternoon was the result, and refreshments topped off the pleasant gathering.
