IN THE WRONG PLACE.

An East Ninth street liquor store had a very fine window display last week. There was a big model of the Niagara, done in flowers and picked out with lights, so skillfully copied that it attracted a great deal of attention. This decoration occupied one window; the window opposite was filled with bottled goods.

A sailor came up from the pier Friday and looked approvingly at the floral model.

"That's pretty well done," he said to the proprietor. "The riggin' is right, an' the lights is right, an' the spars has the proper slant. You got just one mistake."

"What's that?"

"The life preservers is in the wrong winder."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

As Interpreted Nowadays. Mr. Dorkins, going home early in the afternoon, found his wife overhauling the icebox and cleaning up the pantry.

"What are you doing, Maria?" he asked.

"Following Solomon's advice," she said, "even if it is addressed to the sluggard. I have gone to the ant, considered her ways—and I'm wise to the fact that she's a nuisance, a calamity and a pest! I am going to clean her out!"

Sneezing as the red pepper in the atmosphere filled his nostrils, Mr. Dorkins turned and fled.

 Farmer—You bet he has. Before he went I never could get him to do any chores around the farm. But after them hazers got hold of him he got so tame he'll do anything you tell him.

Something Else to Think About. She used to call poor hubby up Ten times a day and ask him how He did, but that was years ago—Bridge parties keep her busy now.

Professor Budlong's case of eczema was known to almost every hospital and physician of reputation throughout the state of Connecticut. D. D. Prescription has been of incalculable value to me. I was covered with eczema from head to foot when I began using your remedies. I could get no relief, although I tried a thousand means. I applied but two bottles of the Prescription; a cure was effected in a very short time, in less than one month."—Prof. C. J. Budlong, South Lyme, Conn.
