WILLIAM HAMMOCK IMPROVES Severe Injuries Sustained Saturday Expected to Heal Nicely.

Wm. Hammock, who last Saturday had the misfortune to get caught between the guard and descending elevator in the Grande Ronde meat company's market, and who sustained severe injuries to the scalp, the lip and jaw, is reported by his physician Dr. Richardson, as doing well enough under the circumstances.

The wound in the scalp was about ten inches long and exposed the skull, necessitating 40 stitches. The lip is healing nicely and the broken tooth sockets will perhaps cause him the most trouble. His vigorous constitution will stand him in good stead and no further complications are looked for.
