We wish to remind the flour buyers of La Grande, Oregon—That the wheat this year was A-No. 1 quality. That the machinery in this mill is up to the minute. That the miller has made flour for 40 years. That by combining these strong features it would be impossible to make poor flour. We find in our canvass of the groceries here that only eight families out of every one hundred buy outside flour. What we are after now is to get the eight to join our army of bread crushers. In union there is strength—let's try it out. Yours for more good flour made in La Grande. 2-7,2t. La Grande Milling Co.
