WALLOWA PEOPLE ENJOY TRIP TO PEAKS.

Much Fagged, But Well Pleased, Wallowa Men Return.

Wallowa, Feb. 16.—(Special).—The skiing party, Rev. Shimian, Leo Reed, Orelle Poole, George Rodgers, Henry Shock, Theo. Bell and Mr. Bakky, returned Wednesday from their mountain airing on the Bear Creek forest reserve. They spent the night in the Bear Creek ranger station, which they reached the first day. The second day was spent in a tramp through the mountains, exploring the snow covered region. The third day was spent in the return trip, which was the hardest day for travel, the snow being somewhat soft, making progress rather slow. Two or three of the unexperienced gliders were pretty well fagged out by the time they reached home, but none repented the opportunity they had accepted.

HERE ONLY 2 WEEKS LONGER

Otto West, with George A. Anderson Co. Soon to Leave La Grande.

Announcement has been made by the George A. Anderson store that their designer and dressmaker, Mr. Otto West, is to leave La Grande in two weeks. Mr. West has been busy here for the past month instructing the ladies of La Grande in the art of making high class gowns and has gotten splendid results. His plan is to have the lady select the fabric she desires, then he drapes it just as it will appear when made up. After pinning the goods secure he instructs the lady how to make up the garment herself. In this way the cost of beautiful dresses is reduced besides the student gaining expert information in the dress makers' art. Two weeks more will end his engagement in this city with the Anderson store and all ladies who have not benefited by his visit to La Grande are requested to call at once.—Adv. 2-16,lt.

FAMOUS PLAYER FILM HERE

"HIS NEIGHBOR'S WIFE" A FILM OF MERIT.

Other Films of Class to Be Produced Along With Famous Players.

Tonight and tomorrow night the Arcade presents as its weekly Famous Player attraction, "His Neighbor's Wife." In addition to the famous player pictures each week the Arcade puts on some famous player in this way—there is the regular attraction of good pictures and vaudeville.

"His Neighbor's Wife" is a strong story one of human interest. In two respects aside from others it is an unusual production. One of these is the fact that the entire subject was made inside the studio. The other is the near absence of subtitles. As to the first, those of the uninitiated who see the picture will be skeptical. It is hard to believe that the setting of the great terrace, with its palatial surroundings, is the work of the scenic artist. The same is true of the garden, entered by the great gate swinging between brick posts and containing the rustic summer houses and elaborate benches. The picture when seen by the reviewer was without titles; the story was clear. It is said, however, that two leaders will be inserted so as to bring out more strongly important points.—Adv.
