NEW EPOCH MARKED.

The work was tremendously attractive, and combined with the exemplification of the Wallowa lodge, made an epoch-marking history in Eastern Oregon Pythianism. Elgin was not without glory for her orchestra supplied excellent music during the initiation. Enterprise Next Mecca. During the evening, unanimously, the convention voted to hold the next annual convention in Enterprise, where a big time awaits. At 10:30 the convention adjourned to the I. O. O. F. banquet hall where, under direction of the Pythian Sisters, a pleasing banquet was handsomely served. The toasts were snappy, witty and entertaining. Dr. M. K. Hall was toastmaster. Frank Grant, grand chancellor of the domain of Oregon, responded with a warm appeal for the good of the order. He was followed by J. W. Gwinn, past grand chancellor, and like his successors, he got off in a happy vein. Gus Meese, grand prelate of the domain of Washington, Marion Davis of Union, F. A. Clark of Enterprise, W. G. Trill of Wallowa, L. Denham of Elgin, and Judge Knowles of La Grande, were each heard in snappy speeches. Mrs. Conaway of Elgin, C. P. Ferrin of La Grande were heard in entertaining songs, and Ben Weathers of Enterprise, sang a comic number that was a hit. The banquet broke up with a rousing toast to Red Cross lodge, led by the Enterprise lodge. At 2 o'clock this morning, Imperial Ikfir Meese of Spokane, brought to order the tyros who were to form Khaled Temple No. 170, D. O. K. K. Before the temple had been instituted and 75 tyros lead across burning sands to the oasis in La Grande, plains of Union desert of Oregon, and at the zem zem fount cooled with refreshing drinks of camel's milk, it was ten minutes to 6 a. m. The erstwhile tyros, now full-fledged votaries of Oregon's second temple, had barely time to eat and be gone on the 7:30 train. In these hours of the breaking day the La Grande divan covered itself with glory, for a major portion of the divan had been given parts ten days or less ago. The magnificent regalia was shown off to good effect and the impressive ceremonial that introduced the tyros to the hilarity of the occasion that came later on, was read with apt effectiveness. Marion Davis of Union, Frank S. Grant of Portland, and Mr. Baker of Wallowa, assisted materially in making the ceremonial a success. It was a gala wind-up to a most splendid convention. The lists of toasts heard at the banquet and the musical numbers follow: Vocal Solo. Mrs. Conaway, Enterprise Vocal Solo Mr. C. P. Ferrin, La Grande Vocal Solo Toasts. "Good of The Order" Frank Grant, Grand Chappellor, Portland. "The Ritual" J. H. Gwinn Past Grand Chancellor, Pendleton. "The D. O. O. K." Marion Davis, Supreme Representative, Union. Mr. Ben Weathers, Enterprise "The 11th District." F. A. Clark. Enterprise "Why a Pythian" W. G. Trill. Wallowa "The Convention" L. Denham. Elgin "The Golden Jubilee" Judge J. W. Knowles. La Grande
