Stevenson Hotel is Now Leased By Frank Stevenson.

Joseph, March 4.—(Special.)—W. H. Requa, manager of the Orpheum theatre, and Mrs. Catherine Williams of Montrose, Colo., were married in La Grande last week. All their many friends wish them a long and happy life.

Frank Stevenson has leased the Jennings hotel after running it one year on commission for the owner to Mrs. E. Holst. The hotel Jennings is known far and wide as one of the most up-to-date hotels in Eastern Oregon.

The Joseph high school held its try-out debate last Friday afternoon in the assembly hall of the high school for the purpose of selecting affirmative and negative teams to meet the Enterprise and Wallowa high schools. The question was, "Resolved: That the Illiteracy Test of the Burnett immigration Bill is not Desirable." The affirmative won unanimously. The high school students to represent the Joseph high were Arville Brooke, Jas. Coleman, Lola Warnock and Louis Stevenson. The alternates are Jessie Gowing and Dean Pollock.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Gaulke entertained at cards last Thursday evening. The ladies' honors were won by Miss Dyke and gentlemen's honors went to Mr. Baughman. Mrs. Leslie and Mr. King won consolation prizes. H. B. Royce, a former resident, was in town last week. Mr. Royce is traveling representative for the Walla Walla Brewing company.

Mrs. E. L. Coe will give a music recital in the assembly hall of the Joseph high school March 6. This will be a musical treat as all her pupils will take part. The small admission fee of 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children will be charged. The proceeds of this will go to the students' fund, and the event will be liberally patronized for the musical treat and all public spirited people like to help the efforts of the school children in every way.
