Mr. and Mrs. Baker and children of Gibbon, returned to that place this morning after a pleasant visit at the home of W. A. Baker at Summerville, father of Mr. Baker. The son is forest ranger in that section and has some interesting data on the life he is leading in the forests, far from human habitation. The decrease in forest fires and the consequent saving to the United States and forest owners made a big story in itself and has many times paid for itself in the saving of valuable timber and wood.
