PHELPS CALLS GRAND JURY

BULGIN CHARGES WILL BE GIVEN A CHANCE.

Pendleton Judge Puts Matter Up to Revivalist Who Claims Much.

Pendleton, March 9.—The law and order league, organized through the efforts of Evangelist E. J. Bulgin, for the purpose of "cleaning up" the city, will have an opportunity of presenting their evidence to a grand jury this week, Circuit Judge Phelps stating that he would issue a call to the jurymen to convene Tuesday.

In making the call, he declares there is nothing unusual in it inasmuch as when he dismissed the jury it was only temporarily and was caused by illness in the family of one of the jurors. The jury thus ended its January terms without cleaning up all of the cases on hand and without examining the county poor farm and the county offices. There now being a half dozen cases to be presented for the consideration of the jury and, inasmuch as he is required to be in Heppner within two weeks, Judge Phelps believes the coming week is the opportune time for the adjourned session.

"At the same time," he said this afternoon, "if anyone has any evidence to present tending to show that the laws are being violated here in Pendleton, they will have full opportunity to do so."

As to what action they will take, members of the law and order league are still silent. At the opening of the campaign Evangelist Bulgin declared he had evidence to prove that gambling, prostitution and bootlegging were being practiced here under police protection and he read the names of a number of men whom he would summon before the grand jury.

Since that time the league has held several meetings and appointed a committee to carry on the campaign. It is said that a special attorney has been retained to secure evidence. During the past two days it is reported that several detectives have been on the job. At least the saloonmen are acting upon that assumption and are eyeing every stranger with suspicion. One saloon proprietor yesterday ejected two strangers from his barroom because he suspected they were detectives. They called for a drink and he promptly ordered them outside, adding that unless they went forthwith he would use his boot. "I may have made a mistake," he said, "but I haven't any use for detectives and am not taking any chances on having them hanging around."
