Our 30th Friday Surprise Sale

For thirty consecutive weeks—nearly eight months—we have been offering, each Friday, some special bargains in the various departments of our store. These special offerings have been made for three reasons: to advise the public of such unusual bargains as we might have; to save our patrons money and to relieve the congestion in trade which usually occurs on Saturdays. The growing interest in these Friday "Surprises" has convinced us that the public appreciates our efforts in their behalf and we hope to continue them for many weeks to come. We are continually on the lookout for special buys for this purpose, so don't overlook a single Friday at this store.

STOCK SHOW WANTS BEST JUDGE

Union, March 26.—(Special)—The livestock show association are trying to get an annual stock show judge and unless something happens to knock out their present plans they will have one of the best in the United States. The association is counting on the coming stock show being the best one that Union has ever had.

Mrs. Ed Mitchell has gone east to Toronto, Kans., as her father is very ill and not expected to live. Some people in this city are purchasing new autos. Mayor Davis is running a new six, "Studebaker," Ralph Hutchinson has a new Maxwell. It is rumored that Dr. Meyers will or has purchased a Ford. Several are contemplating the purchase of new machines.

The missionary society of the Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. Giffillan next Friday afternoon. Mrs. Goodbread is the leader. "Exams" are in progress at the different school buildings this week and the pupils and teachers are having a tiresome time.

NATURAL ELECTRICITY.

Tapping the Air For It a Problem That Baffles Science.

In answering the question, "Is the prophecy that 'vent the rounds' about twenty years ago that some way of tapping nature and thus securing unlimited supplies of electricity from air or from space coming true?" Edgar Lucien Larkin in the New York American says:

The nearest approach to the great work of tapping nature's unlimited store of electricity is the act of allowing irrigating streams from high mountains to turn turbine generators over and over again in different power plants along down the sides of the mountains and then after securing all mechanical work of gravitation secure growing work in the growth of food plants. This is the height at present of human skill in the work of "tapping nature."

Windmills turning armatures is another way of tapping. And the capture of water in tides, using the force of outflow, is still another. We still have the dynamo with us. We must turn armatures with their polar fields of magnetic lines.

We must use running water or flowing winds to tap nature or burn carbon under boilers, which is too expensive and prosaic to be called the high art of tapping, as one would turn a faucet. I suppose my correspondent means just tapping a free supply. This auspicious event has not arrived unless using solar engines is tapping. Heat reflected by mirrors directly from the noonday sun upon boilers has been made to generate steam and turn armatures.

Another way of tapping is to allow the sun to shine on thermo electric piles, unions of ends of bars of unlike metals.

What my friend evidently wants is electricity as cheap as air, water and sunlight. This really is the dream of electricians. Since nothing exists but electrons, and these are electricity, it does seem that we ought to get all we want for nothing by merely tapping or tapping the supply. But Edison, Thomson, Rutherford and Tesla and Steinmetz have not blazed the way into this unknown problem of the ages.

I have no doubt that man will make this conquest, for the mind phasing in man is illimitable.

Music and Medicine.

A reporter asked an opera manager one day if he believed in the new therapeutic idea that music was a medicine. "Believe in it? Of course I do," the impresario replied. "I know at least three operas that are a drug on the market, while as for popular songs there isn't one of them that doesn't make me ill."

His Luck.

"Don't you know that your husband is walking the floor because of his debts?" "Isn't it fortunate?" replied young Mrs. Torkins sweetly. "You know the doctor said that Charlie simply must take more exercise."—Washington Star.
