Some time ago we made mention in this paper of an abstract of a Grocer who did not sell Push & Garrantee La Grande Made Flour, and we are glad to say, we never caught a man. Which we thank the Grocers of La Grande for this record.—Adv.

STRAWBERRY SALES BEGIN

GENERAL SALE OF CALIFORNIA GRADE BEGINS.

Cucumbers Will be added to List of Local Commodities.

Rapid addition to the line of produce offered by grocers in La Grande is going on this week. One merchant last week introduced strawberries direct from California, and by the end of this week, most or all of the grocers will carry a strawberry line and word from the producer is to the effect that the quality is much improved over the first week's offering. The price will be either 25 or 20 cents per basket. Cucumbers will be put on sale before the week is out, and new potatoes will probably become a little more plentiful and probably 12 1/2 cents per pound and of juicy quality as well.

La Grande quotations today are: BUTTER AND EGGS.

CALVE'S CALVES.

There Was a Startling Transformation Between the Acts.

When I went to the Theatre de la Monnaie in Brussels in 1881 says Mme. Calve, I made my debut as Marguerite. My second performance was to be Cherubino. At that time I was very slight. My neck and arms were thin, and so, of course, were my legs. I did not think I could possibly appear in breeches without something to make me look a little plumper, so I went to the costumeur of the theater and told him I wanted some pads. He made them according to his own ideas of what beautiful legs should be and sent them to me so late that I had no time to try them on. I don't know what I must have looked like when I stepped on the stage thin and girlish from the waist up and provided with the most enormous calves.

After the first act the manager rushed around to my dressing room. "My

"TAKE OFF THE PADS." heavens," he exclaimed, "where in the world did you get those legs? They certainly are not your own." I admitted that they were not and said I thought I was too thin to dispense with pads. "Don't you know," he said to me, "that a young girl with straight, slender legs is far better suited to the part of a page than when she disfigures herself with such things as these? Take off the pads and go out in your own legs."

I decided to follow his advice. When I got on the stage again I was thin, but at least symmetrical. The effect on the audience was startling. The conductor of the orchestra stared at me as if his eyes would pop out of his head. After a moment or two the cause of the astonishing alteration in my looks seemed to be understood, and there was a titter of laughter through the audience. Since that time I have never worn pads.—Strand Magazine.

Schoolboy Blunders. These mistakes by British schoolboys are reported by the London Times:

"When the last French attack at Waterloo proved a failure Napoleon turned very pale and rode at full gallop to St. Helena."

"A problem is a figure which you do things with which are absurd, and then you prove it."

"When Chaucer describes the princess as 'amiable of port' he means that she was fond of wine."

"The mineral wealth of a country is ginger beer and lemonade."

A Giant Redwood.

The largest tree in the United States is said to be the mother of the forest, a giant redwood in the Calaveras big tree grove in California. It is supposed to contain 140,019 board feet of lumber. There are, however, many claimants for the honor of being the "largest tree" and the "oldest tree," and these claims, according to foresters, cannot always be verified.—Indianapolis News.

Sizing Up a Tip. "I'm afraid I gave that waiter too big a tip," said the frugal diner. "He seems quite appreciative." "That's it: I merely wanted him to say 'Thank you.' I didn't expect him to bow and say 'Good night, sir.'"—Washington Star.

A Tardy Act of Justice. Marriages between English actresses and men of a high social position began in the eighteenth century, if no earlier. There was Lavinia Fenton, the Polly Peachum of Gay's "Beggar's Opera," who became Duchess of Bolton; there was Miss Farren, who married Lord Derby; also Miss Brunton became Lady Craven not long before Lord Thurlow married Miss Bolton. Earliest of the list, though, comes the Earl of Peterborough, who married Anastasia Roblusion, the singer, and kept the marriage secret until a few days before his death in St. James' palace, when he assembled his relatives and friends and publicly acknowledged the woman "to whom he owed the best and happiest hours of his life," a tardy act of justice that caused the lady to swoon away.

The Luxury of Sugar

Sugar was considered an article of luxury in Europe until tea and coffee became usual articles of diet. Sugar was then used to sweeten these beverages and so gradually came to have a prominent part in the daily diet. Before the days of sugar much more meat was eaten and the drinking of alcoholic beverages was much more common. The fair maiden who could not with impunity drink a pint of alcohol for breakfast was unusual. Perhaps in spite of the fact that most of us eat too much of it, sugar is a blessing. Even over-sweetened coffee and cereal covered with sugar sound more beautiful than a pint of ale and a half pound of beef for breakfast.—Boston Herald

Poor Alexander.

A high school freshman, asked to recite on the life of Alexander the Great, extemporized as follows: "Alexander was a quick tempered man. Once when he had taken too much wine he got angry at his best friend and killed him. Alexander was very much grieved and did everything he could to help bury his friend."—Everybody's.

Simplicity and Nobility.

Between simple and noble person there is always a quick intelligence. They recognize at sight and meet on a better ground than the talents and skills they may chance to possess, namely, on sincerity and uprightness.—Emerson

AWAY WITH CATARRH A FILTHY DISEASE

Instantly Relieves Swollen, Inflamed Nose, Head, Throat—You Breathe Freely—Dull Headache Goes—Nasty Discharge Stops.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm." Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm penetrates by the heat of the nostrils; swollen membranes which annoy the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately. Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucus dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your face—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.
