

Marx Made Trousers Week

April 25th to May 2nd

It is our pleasure to announce that on the above dates we will present for your approval the greatest collection of men's trousers for Spring that we have ever shown.

These are the famous MARX MADE Trousers. They are known all over America. Many of the patterns are exclusive; the fit and style cannot be surpassed and the workmanship has for years been recognized at the best obtainable.

First, the Marx & Hass Clothing Company of St. Louis, who make this famous brand of trousers have a special patent device used to notch the cloth so that the tailors in sewing the seams can match each leg perfectly and avoid any chance of making mistakes. This assures a perfect hang to the trousers.

Second, the inside linings always match the fabric both in color and design. It's just a small matter but will serve to show the carefulness of the house in even these little details.

Third, all stripes are matched so that they absolutely follow the crease both back and front, an art that requires expert tailoring. If the stripes don't follow the crease the trouser is not perfect. Note this point when you come in to look at MARX-MADE Trousers.

Fourth, the buttons won't come off—because each button is seamed with thirty-two separate and distinct stitches and then the ends are tied underneath in a double knot. There are no loose threads and the buttons stay on.

Fifth, MARX-MADE Trousers are made with a three inch turn-up—this guarantees a perfect drop over the shoe and helps materially in the hang of the trouser.

Sixth, And then in addition to all this, you will find the "Wunder Waist-Band" on every pair of MARX-MADE Trousers. This patented device, which is found on no other trouser, holds the belt in its proper place. It does away with unsightly torn belt loops. It makes the trouser fit perfectly at the hip, a most desirable feature. Many men who in the past have found it inconvenient to wear belts will find this great satisfaction in the "Wunder Waist-Band."

CONSIDERABLE BUILDING IN 1914.

It is very interesting to know at this particular time, when there seems to be a general depression in business over the country, that La Grande's building prospects continue to keep and that there is slated a large amount of work for this summer.

With the Y. M. C. A. building already under way; with the large annex to the Grande Ronde hospital to be erected sure this summer; with the O. W. R. & N. company putting in improvements that will represent at least $50,000; with numerous new homes in course of construction and others ready for the contractors to figure on, there is surely no cause for complaint in La Grande.

Occasionally there may be a dull day, but in the main this city is in good shape. It is forging ahead in steady, healthy manner.

BOUND TO LAST A WHILE.

The war with Mexico is bound to last for some time. Those who think differently are certainly mistaken, for Mexico is a tremendously large country. It is peopled with a peculiar people who have been brought up in the revolutions that have infested the so-called republic. They are fighting people, but fight differently from Americans. Theirs is a peculiar warfare. It is of the kind that lasts for years; the kind that sneaks in the dark and lurks in every movement.

So, when the boys enlist they will likely see service.

And those who would know about good roads will have a good chance to learn something of real consequence when King, the road drag man, visits Union county. It is worth laying off a day from work to hear this man who seems to know what he is talking about.

Governor West wants to go to war. Without discounting the governor's patriotism or minimizing his motives, don't you think it would be as well for the chief executive to send Miss Hobbs?

The Cove cherry is emerging from

Dr. Tape is to stock the ponds around Hot Lake with ducks. And the La Grande sportsmen are saying, "Fine fellow, doctor."

NO ROOM FOR ALARM.

All has been adjusted satisfactorily, and 100 cents on the dollar realized. Makes a run on the La Grande Milling Co. Yes, during this month, the grocers of La Grande tried to buy up all the flour, but we fooled them. We kept on grinding. When their warehouse room was filled they gave it up. So everything now is running on a sound basis. Ask your grocer if this is not the fact.—Adv. 4-24-2t.
