E. Polack's store was not robbed as he first thought. It seems Saturday night when he left the store he had plenty of flour in his back room and getting there late Monday a. m., his clerks had sold more La Grande made flour than he dreamed of, which looked at first like a robbery had been going on over Sunday, as Mr. Polack's flour was short. But the register soon showed him where the flour was which put things going all O. K. 4-27-2t.

There will be a service held at Perry on Wednesday night of this week. The Easter festival had interrupted the services held by Rev. Drahn of the local Lutheran church, at Perry on the 2d and 4th Wednesdays, but these will now be resumed and held regularly. The service will commence at 8 o'clock during the summer months, commencing tomorrow night.

More than two carloads of automobiles have been brought to Enterprise already this season, and many more are to come. This does not indicate any phenomenal prosperity of this section, although it is proof of sound and substantial conditions, says an Enterprise paper. But it has another meaning. Most of the new cars are used more for pleasure than for business. The purchasers by buying the autos indicate that this is home for them; this is the place where they are going to stay and find their pleasure. They are not saving up money to take away to some other locality to spend. This is indeed a most hopeful sign. It shows the permanence of the population, and that is what makes a town prosper.

Last Saturday a. m., when the Snodgrass Store was opened a most peculiar sight met the eyes of that firm; they found the middle door wide open and knew at once that all was not right. Mr. Snodgrass called his clerks at once as his feelings were a little shaky, telling Mr. Jackson to run to the phone and order at once a load of La Grande Made Flour, his stock was so small to start in on Saturday with. So this put things right with Mr. Snodgrass.—Adv. 4-27-2t.
