MARKET SHOWS MUCH STRENGTH

LAST OF POTATOES SHIPPED OUT OF IMBLER THIS WEEK.

Cattle Shipments to Coast Not Heavy and Price Is Firm.

There is nothing new on the local market which has not been advertised some days ago. The price of green stuff is going constantly down and in a week or two prices will be just about at midsummer levels for green stuff. Local asparagus and spinach are on the market already, and lettuce is just about large enough for marketing. This will do away with the necessity of having it shipped in, save perhaps head lettuce.

Portland Indications.

The indications contained in Portland market reports is good for rising prices. The supply of beef is not as large as it ought to be and this circumstance is keeping the market strong. Mutton is steady with no indication of any great change. Wheat seems on the climb. Wool is likewise one of the surprises of the market, being from three to four cents higher at this time of the year without tariff on raw wool that it was last year with tariff. Florida foodstuffs will soon be on the market and this will have a tendency to lower the price of imported stuff. Texas too is just about ready to ship north and west and some of the shipments will come this way.

Potatoes Cleaned Up.

Potatoes in this section are gone. C. M. Secor of the Oregon Produce company shipped to Denver about the last to be had in Imbler yesterday. The price has been fair and while no great profit was realized, farmers are satisfied.
