La Grande and Cove won the opening games of the Inter-Valley league yesterday, when La Grande got away with the long end of a 5-3 score on the local lot, and Cove won from Imbler at Cove 14 to 4.

Before a fair sized audience yesterday afternoon at the fair grounds ball park, La Grande defeated Elgin by a score of 5 to 3. Elgin lost the game in the first two innings and but for these, the game might have gone to extra innings. Elgin had not scored until the last half of the eighth inning, when two wild throws coupled with a run together by two infielders, netted Elgin three runs and gave the appearance that the score might be tied.

Oswald's pitching for Elgin after the second inning was of big caliber. In the first two innings several hits were gleaned from his slants, but after that he kept all of his donations so well scattered that La Grande did not have a chance to score. Elgin's infield clung to the ball like veterans, and none of the home team made the circuit for runs after the second.

Blake, pitching for La Grande, held the visitors at his control throughout the entire game and at no time weakened enough to let runs cross the plate as earned off his delivery. Oliver played a remarkably fine game behind the bat, and gives promise of developing into big league material. But for the bauble between short and third by Carpy and Crane, La Grande would have played an almost errorless game. Both teams were held close to the bags throughout the game and but few stolen bases were made in the game on both sides.

Both teams can develop a little more speed in the field. Several batters were credited with hits that ought to have gone into some fielder's glove, but warmer weather will develop this.

The score:

	R.	H.	E.
La Grande	5	6	7
Elgin	2	4	5

Batteries: La Grande, Blake and Oliver. For Elgin, Oswald and Hallgarth.

Umpire, Hadaller—Time one hour and fifty minutes.

Tricked Him.
It was pay day at the Consolidated Coal and Lumber works, and a mine worker was returning home with his monthly envelope. He met a bad man with a pistol, who demanded his wages. The worker handed the money over.

"Now," said he, "my wife will think that I've gambled or drunk. Won't you shoot a hole in my coat, so that I can prove that I was attacked and robbed?"

"Why, certainly so," answered the robber.

The worker held out his coat while the other punctured it with a bullet.

"Another," begged the worker, and the other fired again.

"Another," and there was another hole in the garment, another and still another.

"That's all the cartridges I've got," said the robber.

"All the cartridges you've got?" said the worker, picking up a rock. "Then give back that money. Hand over your pistol and whatever else you happen to have."—National Monthly.

Whistler and a Supper.

Though frequently hard up, Whistler had an income which seemed princely to students who lived on nothing at all. If Whistler had money in his pockets, Mr. Ionides says, he spent it royally on others. If his pockets were empty, he managed to refill them in a way that still amazes M. Oulevey, who, in proof of it, told us of the night when, after the cafe where they had squandered their last sous on kirsch had closed, he and Lambert and Whistler adjourned to the Halles for supper, ordered the best and ate it. Then he and Lambert stayed in the restaurant as hostages while Whistler, at dawn, went off to find money to pay. He was back when they awoke with 300 or 400 francs in his pocket. He had been to see an American friend, he said, a painter. "And, do you know, he had the bad manners to abuse the situation: he insisted on my looking at his pictures."—"The Life of James MacNeill Whistler," by E. R. and J. Pennell.

SPRING BLOSSOMS.

The maiden spring upon the plain
Came in a sunlit fall of rain.

Fair handed, spring unbosoms
every grace:
Throws out the snowdrop and
the crocus first.

The holy spirit of the spring is working silently.—George Macdonald.

The snowy lambs are springing
In clover green and soft.
—Heine.

Now Nature hangs her mantle
green
On every blooming tree
And spreads her sheets o' daisies
white
Out o'er the grassy lea.

HERE COMES MY DADDY NOW!

Looking Younger Than Ever In His Royal Tailored Suit

Girls:—We're going to depend on YOU to just make Father come down to this store during this Prime-of-Life Week. You know he ought to come—and, deep down in his heart, he knows it too—the lovable old rogue.

Father May Not Admit It—but you know that when he spruces up on Sunday, he's some handsome Chesterfield. No wonder mother fell for him as she did!

When he can be induced to lay aside his Jimmy-pipe and carpet slippers and slide into his Frock coat and Stove Pipe lid—he's just as Tiffany-looking and distinctive as any man in this town.

But the point is—Sunday isn't the only time Father ought to do this. The idea that he should dress like a Grandfather six days a week, and a spic and span young man ONE day a week is all wrong—he ought to keep that spic and span look the whole week through.

It isn't only a matter of looking young, it's a matter of feeling young and keeping young. We tell you, girls, there is no tonic in the world to keep the youth in a man's heart, the merry glister in his eye, the spring in his step and the enthusiasm and laughter in his voice—like blithesome and debonair clothes.

The trouble is, Father has only one spic and span "Make-up" and that's intended only for Sunday wear. You just coax him down here—(you know how to do it as no one else can) and let him see this big exhibit of Rejuvenating Spring Woolens and Worsteds from The Royal Tailors of Chicago and New York. Perhaps we'll have one of those slim and trim English cut sack suits just in from The Royal Tailors made up for some other youngster about Father's size. He won't mind if Father tries it on—and you'll be surprised to see how this natty, snug-fitting garment will lop the years off Father's back.

Remember, girls—we're depending on you to make Father meet his wardrobe obligation and be here during Prime-of-Life Week. Come in with him so we can thank you for your team work in getting Father interested.

Sick Headache.

Mrs. A. L. Luckie, East Rochester, N. Y., was a victim of sick headache and despondency, caused by a badly weakened and debilitated condition of her stomach, when she began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. She says, "I found them pleasant to take, also mild and effective. In a few weeks' time I was restored to my former good health." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

For a Torpid Liver.

"I have used Chamberlain's Tablets off and on for the past six years whenever my liver shows signs of being in a disordered condition. They have always acted quickly and given me the desired relief," writes Mrs. F. H. Trubus, Springfield, N. Y. For sale by All Dealers.—Adv.

FRENCH REMEDY FOR STOMACH TROUBLES

The leading doctors of France have for years used a prescription of vegetable oils for chronic stomach trouble and constipation that acts like a charm. One dose will convince you. Severe cases of years' standing are often greatly benefited within 24 hours. So many people are getting surprising results that we feel all persons suffering from constipation, lower bowel, liver and stomach troubles should try Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. It is now sold here by Hill's Drug Store.

A RELIABLE AND SAFE MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound.

The makers of this great medicine want every family, and every individual, who is subject to a cough or cold, to know that Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is a superior high grade medicine, containing only pure healing, demulcent and remedial agents, and that is why more bottles of it are sold today than of any other similar preparation. We want you to use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in preference to any other cough medicine, because it is not only the best you can buy but it is also the cheapest; for it relieves distress so promptly and benefits so quickly that a less amount is needed than of any other cough medicine, and the last dose is as good as the first. It does not contain any opiates, that only stifle a cough, but it soothes and heals inflamed surfaces. Try it for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, bronchial coughs, asthmatic coughs, hoarseness and tickling throat. In 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles everywhere. For sale by Hill's Drug Store.
