

TOMATO PRICE CLIMBS AGAIN

FROM 20 CENTS, PRICE GOES TO 25 CENTS PER POUND.

Other Commodities Hold Their Own
in Even Fashion Locally.

With the exception of tomatoes which are displaying a great deal of price strength, crowding the 25 cent mark, vegetables and fruits are unchanged today. Tomatoes went up to 25 cents Saturday and it is said by those who know that they will probably stay there for several days to come. Other commodities are holding their own, with no variation.

MY PHOTO GIRL

By DWIGHT NORWOOD

Imagine yourself a man twenty years old, named Richard, in the springtime, when the little god of love is sitting about, bringing down young people here and there with his arrows. You put your hand in the pocket of your light overcoat, smelling of moth balls from the winter's packing, and draw out a large brown envelope, containing a photograph of the loveliest face of a young girl you have ever seen. And, to cap the climax, written across the lower part of the card are the words in ink, "To dearest Dick."

That was what happened to me on putting on for the first time since the autumn before a spring overcoat. Looking at the face before me, a smile perched on the lips between two dimples, a saucy look in the eyes, I exclaimed:

"Pretty enough to kiss."

After feasting my eyes for some time, drinking in at the same time the words, "To dearest Dick," I began to concern myself as to how the photograph came into my pocket. Taking off the overcoat, I examined it, casting a glance at the maker's tag sewed on the back of the neck. That solved the problem so far as the coat was concerned. The name was not that of my tailor. I was happy to observe, however, that it had been bought at a store in the city where I lived—happy because the notorious design was born in my mind to rob, if possible, this other Dick of his sweetheart.

However, I was not a common thief and did not care to keep a coat I did not own. I took it to the tailor who made it, told him that I had probably exchanged it the autumn before in some coat room and asked him to find the owner. He succeeded in doing so, and an exchange of coats was made.

It was not long before, at a dance, who should appear on the floor executing the tango but the girl of the photograph. I must pause to say that she not only danced gracefully, but properly. Her partner was a handsome young man whom I assumed to be Dick, and he was Dick.

I spent half an hour in finding some one to introduce me to my photo girl and succeeded. I was and am still fond of dancing and invited her to dance. Before the evening was over I told her that I had her photograph, and after I had teased her for some time as to how I got it I gave her the story.

"I cannot understand," I added, "how dearest Dick could have received back his overcoat without asking for the picture in the pocket."

"It wasn't complimentary, was it?" "I should say not. It shall not pass out of my possession so easily. No one shall have it except yourself, and I will only surrender it to you on an unequivocal demand."

"Indeed," she said—a very convenient word by which to say something that means nothing. Encouraged by not receiving an unequivocal demand, I proceeded:

"My name is Dick."

"Indeed?"

Not being stopped in this abrupt love-making to one I had not seen before that evening, I proceeded to describe my feelings on finding her photograph, using much the same language as I have used here. Suddenly I stopped in my exclamations, asking to be excused from a charge of flattery.

"You are perfectly excusable," she said. "Have you anything more of the same sort?"

I told her there was a lot more, but words were inadequate to express it. I asked about Dick, advancing as far as I dared toward a direct question as to whether or not she was engaged to him—since she had been called "Miss" I knew she was not married—but she gave me no satisfaction. I have noticed that a woman when a man gets on to the subject of love, so far as she is concerned, is quite willing to listen, but constitutionally opposed to talking. At any rate, when we parted this one had my secret, but I had not been honored with her confidence.

I asked permission to call upon her, and it was granted. After calling once or twice I asked her to go to the theater with me. She said she would refer the matter to Dick. "He is very easy with me," she said. "I expect he won't object."

"He must be a remarkable lover," I said, "to permit his fiancée to go out with men other than himself."

She vouchsafed no reply to this, but informed me later that Dick had consented to her going out with me, putting an accent on the "me" that led me to think I was not to be feared. One evening when I called on my photo girl I found Dick sitting snuggled up to her on a sofa. They were looking over a book of pictures together. As I entered the room, with out even rising she said unconcernedly:

"Dick, this is Mr. —, who exchanged overcoats with you."

"I think it must have been my fault," I said. "I believe you didn't miss anything that was in your pocket, did you?"

"No, I didn't."

"The photograph I had taken about that time," said the girl.

"My sister is always giving me her photographs," remarked Dick, and he left the room.

"Humph!" I said. "Brother, eh?" "Did I say he wasn't my brother?" We were engaged before I left the house.

FOR PRINCIPLE.

They went to war against a preamble. On this question of principle they, while actual suffering was as yet afar off, raised their flag against a power to which, for purposes of foreign conquest and subjugation, Rome in the height of her glory is not to be compared; a power which has dotted the whole globe with her possessions and military posts, whose morning drum-beat, following the sun and keeping company with the hours, circles the earth daily with one continuous and unbroken strain of the martial airs of England. —From Daniel Webster's Tribute to Revolutionary Fathers.

BIG AGRICULTURE LAND OPENING

TWELVE HUNDRED AND FIFTY TRACTS of five and ten acres each to be granted to prospective settlers in throwing open Twenty Thousand Acres of Rich, Southern Georgia Land, which is admirably adapted to the growing of celery, sweet and Irish potatoes, canteloupes, water melons, corn, oats, cotton, hay—in fact, all staple crops grown in this fertile section, as well as a large variety of semi-tropical fruits, and the famous immensely profitable paper-shell pecans.

Providing you are eligible under the classifications prescribed by us, you are now offered an excellent opportunity to break away from the drudgery and toil of a small wage, or working for the benefit of landlords, and go back to a land of plenty, to which, if granted, you will hold a warranty deed and abstract.

The best security on earth is the earth itself, and land is the basis of all wealth. Owners of productive lands are benefiting by the increasing high cost of living, while others are suffering from it.

An Opportunity to Secure Rich Productive Land Without Capital

You will not be required to leave your present surroundings now. All we ask of those to whom we grant tracts is that they plant, or arrange to have planted, a crop of one of the above-mentioned products within three years, after which we will have it operated (harvested and replanted) for grantees, in consideration of 25 per cent. of the net profits derived from the sale of the crops, thereby allowing the grantee to pursue his or her present occupation until such time as they determine just what the yield of their acres amounts to. Consider what this may mean as a source of income, when statistics show that the yield of one acre of celery amounted to $1,268.45, and that one acre of well-cared-for paper shell pecans, in full bearing, should net its owner as high as $500.00 per year. We are of the opinion that after it is proven by actual results obtained in operating the land that they will need no further urging, and waste no time in locating in this land of plenty. We also require grantees to occupy the land within ten years, or sell it to some one who will occupy it; otherwise it reverts back to the grantor.

The land included in this opening is located directly on and adjoining the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad, about twenty-five miles west of Brunswick, a thriving city of fifteen thousand, having direct steamship service to New York and Boston, and excellent railroad transportation facilities to all points. The average temperature for six months of the year, from April to October, is 77 degrees; the climate is most healthful, delightful, and invigorating, and there is an ample rainfall of 51 inches per year.

Our Aim is for Mutually Beneficial Results.

As we are extremely desirous of having settlers locate on this property, and assist in its development, and thereby greatly increase the value of surrounding and intervening property, which we will hold, and to increase the traffic along the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad, and thus facilitate the service, we feel warranted in granting these tracts to those who register with us. We also have in mind business and residence plots which we will offer for sale after the opening, but which will not be included in it. We have "money-making afterward" considerations in this liberal-minded opening, similar to those of the Northern Pacific and other railroads when they granted their lands, and we expect to benefit thereby, as well as the ones who will receive the tracts.

We have also planned to develop what is designed to be the best equipped, most up-to-date, scientific, commercial farm and orchard in existence. It will consist of six thousand acres, and will be included in this opening. All who register and receive tracts will get the benefit of the experiments and scientific methods in vogue thereon. While we are arranging to prevent over-registration, we will avoid many disappointments, such as occurred in other land openings conducted by the United States Government and railroads, by granting those who registered in excess of the number of tracts to be granted, an interest in this commercial farm and orchard enterprise, in the hope that they may later locate in one of our town sites.

Examination of the land will cheerfully be permitted, and the opening will be held at Brownstown, Wayne County, Georgia, one of the stations of the A. B. & A. Railroad, which is located on this property, and will occur as soon after the closing of registrations as arrangements can be made.

The presence of those registered will not be necessary at Brownstown on the opening day, unless they wish to attend, for there is no favoritism shown anyone. It will be conducted by a committee selected for the purpose, and those registered will be notified of what they have been granted, as soon as possible.

With the ever-increasing population of this country there is no corresponding increase in the area of land, and naturally as the population increases and seeks the land in pursuit of health, happiness and independence, it will continue to be harder to secure.

The prosperous and contented class in Europe to-day are the descendants of those who secured land there when it was plentiful, while the descendants of those who obtained no land are now the pennants and slaves. You must realize that this may be your last chance to secure land in this country without a large outlay of capital, so it should not be necessary to urge you to act at once by forwarding us the application for registration attached to this announcement.
