YOUNG SLATE ASSIGNED JOB

WILL GO AGAINST NORTH POWDER TOMORROW.
 Thrilling Game Is Predicted When Two Teams Clash Here at 3:30.

Slate the heaver who got away with the Elginites two weeks ago, has been assigned the task of coming back at North Powder tomorrow afternoon. North Powder and La Grande closed their set-to in North Powder last Saturday in a dispute but that will be settled "in court" as it were, and will have no bearing on the contest tomorrow. A rattling good game is almost certain. A big crowd of "nuts" are coming from North Powder.

Ray Oliver may also pitch. Dan O'Brien the nifty infielder who came here from Teko Washington, has found a job to his liking at Union and will play with Union this summer. That will add strength to an already good team. Upon Galbreath, a local yard crew member, will fall the task of taking O'Brien's place tomorrow and Captain Heck McInnis will play first. Otherwise the team will be much the same as played at North Powder a week ago. The game is called at 3:30.

Elgin may lose one of her airtight infielders. Young Workman who is just rounding into pretty fine shape for a youngster, is temporarily uncertain where he is going to locate, having quit his job at Elgin. He spent yesterday and today in La Grande visiting friends.

Games play in the Wallowa league last Sunday were:

Enterprise	4	1	.800
Joseph	3	2	.600
Wallowa	3	2	.600
Lostine	0	5	.000

According to the rules of the Union county league each of the teams has to pay its own expenses and retains its own receipts. In this manner each team profits just in accordance with the support that it receives from the people of the town it represents. So attend the games here and help the boys pay expenses.

The meeting of Union county motorists last night determined that the disputed game at North Powder shall be played over, and this will be done July 4th at either Haines or North Powder.

George Flagg of Elgin was delegated to draft a final schedule for the league, by the directors. The one submitted last night was faulty in places.

Ray Oliver is back from Walla Walla, and will help La Grande win tomorrow. Official scorers are to be appointed.

MOTOR RACES DRAW NOTICE

CARL ROSE COMING WITH BLOOD IN HIS EYE.

Probable That Preliminaries Will Have to Be Run Saturday June 20.

La Grande's second annual motorcycle road races may develop into a two-day affair. In any event the riders who will participate on June 21st, which is Sunday, are to be in La Grande so far as possible on Saturday. On that day the riders will be taken on a pleasure tour of the Grande Ronde, or they can ride the course of the next day's meet if they choose.

Pleasure Tour Planned.
 If entries come in like early indications point to, it will be necessary to run off some of the preliminaries for the track races on Saturday giving added zest to the meeting.

Carl Rose Coming Too.
 Carl Rose, the Portland rider is coming to enter with his famous Excelsior and is bringing a string of high class Portland riders. The big northwest meet takes place in Portland about the same time and it will likely be possible to get some men of national fame here. Rose is especially desirous of redeeming himself for last year when Tracy Hollister grabbed the event and Rose didn't even place.

Literature exploiting the meet is now being sent out. Local people rallied to the support of the club and subscribed all the money needed to make the event one of financial certainty, and the club has now determined that this annual event shall rank with the chautauqua, fair and other distinctly La Grande events of annual nature.

Last evening the local committee were called together by President Roscoe Neill, and many matters gone over looking toward a smooth, well-managed meet. Slight mistakes of last year, when everybody was inexperienced, will be eliminated this time and much success is predicted.

Last night the following committees were appointed by President Neill:

- Finance committee—Bohnenkamp, Adair, Bartholamew.
- Advertising committee—Reynolds, Hollister, Roskamp, Slagle and Vehrs.
- Track committee—Young, Bullis, Walden, Cleveland.

The entrance will be closed the evening of the 15th but riders may enter until the 18th by paying double the entrance fee. All communication should be addressed to Chas. H. Reynolds, secretary.

STICK INSECTS.

They Sleep in the Daytime by Going Into a Rigid Trance.

One of the most curious inhabitants of the insect world is what is known as the stick insect, about which Professor Schmidt of the Imperial university of St. Petersburg has been making some strange discoveries.

This queer insect remains in a quiet state during the hours of daylight. Until now it has always been supposed that this was slumber, but Professor Schmidt says it is really a state of entomology, or trance, which the insect has developed as a means of protection against its enemies.

When in one of these trances the insects will remain for hours in most abnormal positions—standing on their heads, flat on their backs or with their legs extended high in the air and the body arched in the form of a bow. Only some prolonged excitement of the nervous system will rouse them from this rigid cataleptic state, but when the trance is over they show no signs whatever of muscular fatigue.

The stick insect passes all its days in a trance and feeds at night on the foliage of plants where it lives.—Exchange.

Amateur Headsman.

Most of us are wont to think of the beheading as a relic of the dark ages, but the last decapitation which took place in the British Isles was no later than 1820. The victims were two unfortunate who had taken a part in the Bonnyair rising and were convicted of high treason. The sentence was carried out in Strirling, Scotland. The headsman, who was masked and wore a serge gown, was a small, nervous man who did his work so badly that it was not until the third stroke that he decapitated one of the unfortunate. The assembled crowd yelled "Murder!" and the miserable headsman was heard to remark, "I wish to heaven I had not it to do." For a long time his identity was a mystery, but it later developed that he was a young medical student of Glasgow. The ax and the mask which he used on the occasion may still be seen.—New York Sun.

"TWIN" PEDESTAL TABLES are the Aristocrats of the Dining Room

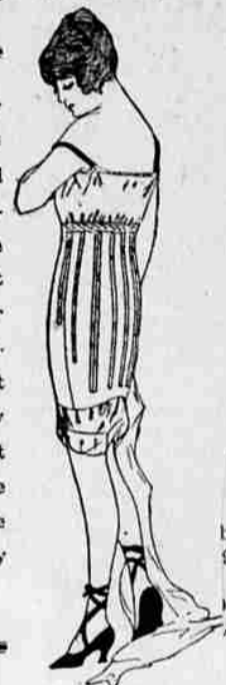

Father—"TWINs" you shall have!
 Son—"TWINs!"
 Father—Yes; that is the name of Pedestal Extension Tables having two complete pedestals. You know we have in our home a "single" pedestal table which when closed always "gaps" or stands open at the bottom, and when extended the locks, bolts, nuts and unfinished surfaces on the inside of the pedestal are exposed.
 New Bride—I have never known that there was such a difference in tables, and I now see that the two complete pedestals overcome all the unsightly parts of a "single" pedestal.
 Son—I have seen tables with drop-legs at the ends of the top, but I can now see that "TWIN" Pedestals besides being more artistic are also more serviceable and reliable. "TWINs" we will have!
 Clerk—I am glad you see the advantages of "TWINs." They are the only tables made that are absolutely perfect, closed or extended. If any of your friends contemplate buying a table, refer them to—
