Who this might be is not even rumored. Neither is there much being said about the county chairmanship for the Democrats. It is presumed that they, like the two other parties organizing this week, will do it quietly and harmoniously.

TO A BOBOLINK.

Bobolink, dear bobolink,
'Tis your merry note, I think!
Filled with sunshine, wild and free,
How each tone appeals to me.
With murmurings of a babbling brook
By some cool and shady nook!
And I feel my heart keep time
To your mad and merry rime.

Bobolink, dear bobolink,
Can you tell me, do you think,
Why my life is touched with care—
Shadows stealing here and there?
Why I cannot feel like thee—
Wild and rollicking and free?
Can you tell me, do you think,
Bobolink, dear bobolink?
—Douglas Arundel.

CANNON ON WILSON.

President Wilson is engaged in smashing precedents. The president has delivered his messages from the rostrum of the speaker of the house. In that he has smashed a precedent of a hundred years. President Wilson smashed another old precedent in abolishing the New Year's reception. This abandonment of an old social custom is not of importance, but it reminds me of an incident in the administration of Lincoln.

On the morning of Jan. 1, 1863, the president copied the emancipation proclamation with his own hand, working at his desk until the hour for the New Year's reception to begin. Then he went to the blue room and for four hours shook hands with thousands of citizens. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon Lincoln returned to his desk with his right hand so swollen that he could scarcely hold a pen, but after manipulating and massaging the fingers for a few minutes he took the pen and wrote "Abraham Lincoln" to the most significant document ever issued from the White House.—Joseph H. Cannon.
