

GOLDEN'S LIFE DATA ARE GIVEN

WAS LOVING HUSBAND AND A KIND FATHER.

Held High Honors in I. O. O. F. and in Blue Mt. Grange.

In a communication to the Observer, C. D. Huffman gives some interesting data concerning the life of the late Charles E. Golden who died at McMinnville during the Odd Fellows convention. Says this letter:

Charles Edmund Golden was born August 5th, 1859, in Nebraska City, Neb., and died at McMinnville, May 20th, 1914, aged 54 years, 9 months and 15 days.

His mother having died when he was but four years of age, he came to Oregon with his father in 1871. He lived in the Willamette valley until 1876, when he came to the Grande Ronde valley where he has lived ever since, save for a period of four years, during which time he was resident in Gilliam county.

He was married to Mattie H. Childers in the year 1880, May 2nd. To this union were born seven children, six of whom survive. These are Mrs. Charles Utter, of Fox Lake, Wisconsin, Mrs. Archie Conley, of Cove, John J., Arthur E., Joe H. and Faye who live at the Golden Home near La Grande.

Charles Golden was a kind, loving and devoted husband and father; an exemplary citizen and a good neighbor. He was a prominent member of the I. O. O. F. and at the time of his death was a delegate to the Grand Lodge at McMinnville, representing Chosen Friends Lodge No. 190 of Island City. He was serving his second term as N. G. He was taken suddenly ill of pleurisy and died in about four hours.

He was a charter member of the Blue Mountain Grange No. 345, and was holding one of the highest offices in the Grange when he died.

Funeral services were held at the Central church of Christ in La Grande, May 24th, with interment at Island City cemetery under the auspices of the I. O. O. F.—C. D. HUFFMAN.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

Methusalem Practiced It.

Says Benjamin Franklin in his little essay "On the Art of Procuring Pleasant Dreams:"

"It is recorded that Methusalem, who being the longest liver, may be supposed to have best preserved his health, that he slept always in the open air, for when he had lived 500 years an angel said to him, 'Arise, Methusalem, and build thee an house, for thou shalt live 500 years longer.' But Methusalem answered and said: 'If I am to live but 500 years longer, it is not worth while to build me an house. I will sleep in the air, as I have been used to do.'"

This dialogue is not reported in the fifth chapter of Genesis, to be sure, but it is reproduced here out of respect to Franklin as evidence that outdoor sleeping is no fad, but a wise return to the manners of our ancestry—Harper's Weekly.

Let Evil End With You.

Let evil end with you. Do not pass on the scandal, the doubt, the injustice, the abuse, you have received. Moral garbage thus consumed shall lighten your neighborhood instead of cumbering and defiling it.—"A Farmer's Notebook."

Sympathy is the safeguard of the soul against selfishness.—Caryl.

ENLIVENED THE PLAY.

Sentiment and Impromptu Humor at a Moving Picture Show.

"Where we went last night," said a frequenter of moving picture shows, "there was a scene in one of the films showing a man and a girl, young lovers, kissing. She was a pretty girl and he was a fine, manly, young fellow, and of course everybody was deeply interested in the picture. But at the precise instant that the lovers' lips met some man in the audience exploded with a gigantic sneeze, whereat the whole house blew up with spontaneous hilarious laughter.

"In this picture scene there was a third figure, that of a man who had seen the lovers meeting and who when he saw them kiss turned away from them to smile. He was, to be sure, smiling over the lovers; but as he looked out on the house at this moment with that smile on his face he seemed like a real man smiling in appreciative understanding of what had just happened in the audience. At the sight of his smiling face the audience again blew up. But, of course, the pictures kept on moving all the time, and in half a minute the audience had once more settled down to look on again at the pictures in the usual quiet."—New York Sun.

DOPED AUTOMOBILES.

Acid Sometimes Used to Put Ginger in Second Hand Cars.

"If you are intending to buy a second hand automobile from a stranger or any one but a reputable dealer, keep an eye open to see that the car is not 'doped,'" said H. Clifford Brokaw, principal of the automobile school of the West Side Young Men's Christian association. "Not long ago a friend told me he had a chance to buy a very good car at a low price. He said he knew it was a good car because it could climb the highest hills on high gear. It could almost jump over a house, he said.

"An investigation showed that the car was old, but that previous to the trial trip it had been doped with picric acid. Picric acid, mixed with gasoline, will give a motor a greatly increased power. A wornout motor can be made to do wonderful stunts by the use of proper proportions of picric acid. Chloroform will have the same effect. Picric acid, however, will ruin the cylinders of the best motor. It will give the car much greater power when first used, but I would not care to buy an automobile in which it had been used."—New York Times.

Failures.

"Stand up, Julius Caesar. Didn't you have fits?"

"Yes, your honor."
"Weren't you bald?"
"I was, your honor."
"A dyspeptic?"
"I was."

"Didn't you write your commentaries for political effect?"

"I did, your honor."

"Thereby proving yourself without character. Below normal weight?"

"I was, your honor."

"Then step over there with Napoleon, Alexander, Hannibal, Newton, Charlemagne, Kant, Pope, William Pitt and William of Orange."

"What's the matter with them, your honor?"

"Matter enough. They are all defectives. They've failed to pass our tests."—Life.

Unabashed.

Years ago Isidore de Lara used to sing his own songs at concerts to his own accompaniment. The most popular of them was "The Garden of Sleep." Once—so runs the story—Mr. de Lara was "Garden of Sleeping" at a private house, and he was immensely annoyed by George Moore, who went on insistently talking after the song had begun. Mr. de Lara sang a few bars and then sprang indignantly to his feet.

"Mr. Moore," he said, "I was singing the other day before the Prince of Wales, and he spoke, and I stopped."

"Well, my dear chap," replied Mr. Moore calmly, "he survives."

Mr. de Lara had humor enough to join in the general laugh.—London Answers.

Yes, He Was All Right.

George H. Sims' account of forgetting his own address and having to look it up in the telephone directory was capped by a friend of mine, says a writer in the London Sphere, who told a story of a man trying to tell him from what he had been suffering. "I have been very ill," he said, "with—with—with"—and could get no further. And then suddenly it came to him, "with loss of memory. But," he added, "I'm all right now."

Nothing Left.

"Have you," asked the judge of a recently convicted man, "anything to offer the court before sentence is passed?"

"No, your honor," replied the prisoner. "My lawyer took my last farthing."—London Tit-Bits.

Something of a Curiosity.

"What made you send our friend, Mr. Bumshus, the Russian alphabet?" "I thought it ought to interest him," replied Miss Cayenne. "It is the only thing I ever heard mentioned that he did not assume to thoroughly understand."—Washington Star.

Onion Corn Remedy.

Here is a very simple remedy for corns, but one which is ordinarily most effective. Roll the strong outer skin of an onion until it is quite tender and then bind it on to the toe with a linen bandage while still warm. Put fresh applications on night and morning for two or three days, when the corn should detach itself. The scar will soon disappear and the corn will not return.—Chicago Record-Herald.

"Every real man wears a mustache," is a remark credited to Emperor William. We should like to hear him say it to Frederick the Great or Napoleon Bonaparte.

A "Place of Learning."

Sydney Smith, once being asked why a certain college was called a place of learning, replied that, although a great many had been there to get learning, no one had ever taken learning away; hence it was quite appropriately named.
