Indicating to what extent the coming merchants' convention in this city is being prepared for, is the fact that yesterday afternoon the ladies of the Kaffe Klatch devoted a whole afternoon to the making of banners and flags for decorations during convention week. The club which ordinarily spends its afternoon meetings at sewing and needlework in general, for themselves, rallied to the support of the merchants of La Grande by making the flags and gonzalons needed to properly decorate the arch now being built at the depot, and other public places. Mrs. Turner Oliver was hostess to the women during the afternoon and to bring the day's work to a fitting close, delicious refreshments were served. The members meet again tonight to finish up some work that was not done yesterday.

None but laudatory comments are heard about the entertainment staged last Wednesday afternoon at the Arcade theater by the Sacred Heart academy. The orchestra members by the older pupils and the speaking parts by pupils of the primary department were exceptionally good.

Intense application on the part of the Sisters was shown in the very acceptable rendition of the string numbers, consisting of violin and piano, and the perfectly stunning recitation given by the little tots in the primer grade.

The whole program centered around the graduating of Leah Swalberg and Helen Smith from the two year commercial course, and Lena Robertson and Eileen Peare from the four year high school academic course.

Each of these was given a gold medal for faithful attendance. This class will ever have the distinction of having a perfect attendance record for the year, as well as for high proficiency in school work. Miss Peare was given a gold locket for 13 years continuous attendance at the Academy and for a uniformly and yearly high record standing in her studies.

Besides the diplomas of graduation a large list of awards and certificates for penmanship offered by the Palmer people were given out. These were:

Students' Palmer Diplomas.

Advanced American Penman Awards.
Lena Robertson, Leah Swalberg, Helen Smith, Etha Thomas, Bess Hendricks, Iolanda Klees, Mattie Cronen, Jessie Eppinger, Mary Rafter.

Palmer Teachers' Diploma.
Eileen Peare, Bess Hendricks.

In a fitting and splendid address the Rt. Rev. Bishop Chas. J. O'Reilly, recalled to the pupils the labors of the good sisters who worked with them for many years and for no reward, save their proficiency and moral training, and reminded them that the battle of life was just beginning.

On the previous Sunday Father Driscoll delivered the baccalaureate sermon. Choked with emotion, he painted a word picture of their labors in an endeavor to make greater women of themselves, and reminded them that not the least part of their education had been the noble example of self sacrifice set by their preceptors and the moral instruction given them daily. The school thus closes one of the most successful years of activity in the community's history in this city, which is more than twenty years.

The Parkdale club met at the home of Mrs. Hattie Eckley, Wednesday afternoon. Election of officers took place with these results: Mrs. Alabama Humphrey president; Mrs. Eliza Adler, vice-president; Mrs. Hattie Eckley treasurer and Mrs. Hattie Stilwell secretary; After a short business session all went over to the park and enjoyed a good program given by Mrs. Halley, Mrs. Lephler and Miss Inez Hughes. A banquet was served after, in connection with a wienie roast. Mr. and Mrs. Lambert who royally entertained the ladies who have made the park possible. A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Bohnenkamp and her associates for the facilities afforded. The club members are to meet on July Fourth and have a basket picnic. The next regular meeting is at the home of Mrs. Adler in May Park.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Kimmell entertained the postoffice force last evening at their home on East U avenue with a magnificent chicken dinner. All the delicacies that grow with a chicken dinner—down to strawberries—were served with embellishments. It was a "big feed." The table was decorated with roses and roses comprised place cards. After dinner games and informal visits rounded out the evening. Those present were Postmaster and Mrs. E. E. Bragg and daughter Edith, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ball, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Landrum, Miss Alice Snook, Miss Blanch Snook, Miss Gertrude Beaver, Miss Oma Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. D. Fitzgerald, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kocken-sparger, Mrs. Zoe Thompson, and Jerry and Florence Kimmell.

Next Wednesday night a strawberry fete is to be the social attraction for Elks and their lady friends. It is to be strawberry this and strawberry that—everything new and different—there is to be no home sweet home waltz; instead a "Too Much Mustard" dance and serpentine, and that is the way it is going to be all way through, with plenty of strawberry glides and slides thrown in. Then there is to be a musical entertainment, followed up by strawberries, ice cream, strawberries, cake, strawberries, sherbet, strawberries, coffee, strawberries, sandwiches, strawberries, and through it all, strawberry lights.

Mrs. T. N. Murphy and Mrs. Gertrude Swaney will manage a delightful dancing party tonight at Zuber Hall for which occasion Mrs. Zuber has made extensive preparations. The summer garden has been converted into a veritable bower of green vines, aromatic evergreens, blossoming potted flowers and bouquets of roses and snapdragons, and streaming festoons of varicolored hues. The gents smoking room, a new feature, has been repapered and retinted and forms a little sanctum for those who wish to retreat from the giddy whirl for a cool smoke and a period of relaxation.

Refreshments are to be served in the summer garden on tables spread with linen and decorated with flowers. One would suppose some great festivity were going to take place, so ample are the decorations.

An orchestra of new faces will make its debut tonight. It will consist of Miss Bertha Young, violinist, Mrs. Wood Berry, piano, Alvin Snapp, clarinet and Earnest Lewis, cornet. The public is invited to attend this typical moonlight dancing party.

A pretty wedding took place at six o'clock Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Holman near Island City where their daughter, Miss Lillian, became the bride of Fred Weatherford. Miss Minnie Holman played the wedding march and Rev. Beatty officiated.

The room was prettily decorated with white and pink carnations and a profusion of red roses were used in the dining room. The bride wore a gown of white crepe meteor and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Cary Weatherford, maid of honor, carried pink roses. Mr. Charles Reynolds, a college chum of the groom, was the best man. Only the members of the family and a few invited friends were present at the ceremonies.

The bride is an accomplished young lady and an efficient teacher, having taught for three years in the Pendleton schools and this year in the La Grande.

The groom, a prominent O. A. C. student has been farming in Gillia county since leaving college. There the couple will live.

Mr. and Mrs. Weatherford left for Salt Lake City and other points east for a two week's honeymoon. They have a host of friends who wish them happiness.

On Wednesday night last, the ladies of the Episcopal guild entertained at Honan hall the young men and women who participated in the Cabaret minstrel show during the course of the winter. About 30 couples attended to enjoy a delightful evening at dancing, and share in the grateful thanks of the ladies. Professor Haine's orchestra made delightful music for the occasion and all went home having spent an enjoyable evening. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. E. E. Kiddle and Miss Perrine will entertain the Eastern Star social club next Tuesday at Mrs. Kiddle's home in Island City. Local members will meet at the Star headquarters here and be motored to the suburb.

Mrs. Grace Barrie who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Ingle and who expected to be in the city the coming week was called home to Weiser this morning. Several serious cases coming into her hospital necessitated her presence there.

Wednesday evening Mrs. Frank Chataas entertained at her home in South La Grande for Miss Bess Hendricks, who left last evening for Kennewick Wn., to spend the summer. The relatives and close friends were invited in, and wound up the evening's amusement with an oyster supper.

An evening of amusement and pleasure for the dancing public is in store at the Rex Hall this evening when Manager Sherwood introduces his "rubber dance." The public is invited, being promised a delightful evening in every point.

Everybody wants to know what a "Rubber" dance is and the way to find out is to go to Rex Hall this evening. A big time is assured for all who attend.

Last evening the Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church arranged a pleasant entertainment with Sunday School children participating. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program.

Mrs. A. L. Richardson and Mrs. D. M. Clark are the next hostesses to the afternoon division of the Kaffe Klatch. The meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Richardson, Pennsylvania and Eighth.

The Auction club was entertained by Mrs. William Allinson this week and honors at cards went to Mrs. Jay Van Buren.

The Happy Hour club spent a pleasant afternoon yesterday as guests of Mrs. Prava Lewis. Sewing, informal business transactions and refreshments made up the after-

TWO TIMES AT BAT.

Roger Had His Inning, and Then His Fair Companion Had Hers.

Roger Bresnahan, former manager of the Cardinals, is made the doubtful hero of a story being told in St. Louis. According to the story teller a friend of Roger's asked him to take a certain young St. Louis lady to a ball game and explain its mysteries to her. Roger was game, and one afternoon when he was not catching he escorted the miss to the ball park and found seats in the stand well toward the front.

"Do you like baseball?" said Roger. "Oh, I dearly love it!" replied his companion. "The games are so exciting."

"Well, just sit tight; and I'll tell you all about it, so you'll thoroughly understand its fine points."

"When will the game start?" was the next question.

"It's starting now," said Roger. "Do you see that man standing out there in the center of the diamond? Well, he's what we call the pitcher. He pitches the ball—see? The man who receives it is the catcher because he sometimes catches it. Ha, ha! From right to left we have the first baseman, the second baseman, the short stop and the third baseman, and those way out toward the fence are the fielders. Now the batter has just hit the ball for a single. It is called a single because he is allowed to take one base on the hit."

"Yep," came back the fair one, "I know that. But what is the boob tricking off first like that for? He knows that he can't take a lead like that and get away with it! Who does he think he is? Ty Cobb or Bescher? There he goes like a snip, trying to steal second with Doolin catching. Can you beat that for a solid ivory play, and the backstop signaling for a throw-out all the time? If I had a brain like that I'd use a vacuum cleaner on it. Of course he's out a mile, the poor bushy. I thought you were taking me to a ball game. Why, that fellow shouldn't be permitted to wander around without a nurse! If this is ace-high baseball I'm woozy, and the next time—"

But Roger had fled.—New York Sun

Discipline of the Mind.

The first step in the discipline of the mind is the overcoming of indolence. This is the easiest step, and until it is perfectly accomplished the other steps cannot be taken.—James Allen.

Waiting For Emmeline.

From Belshazzar court to the theater district is only a thirty minutes' ride in the subway, but usually we reach the theater a few minutes after the rise of the curtain. Why this should be I have never been able to explain. It is a fact that on such nights we have dinner half an hour early, and Emmeline comes to the table quite ready to go out, except that she has her cloak to slip on. Nevertheless we are a few minutes late. While Emmeline is slipping on her cloak I glance through the editorial page in the evening paper, answer the telephone and recall several bits of work I overlooked at the office. I then give Harold a drink of water in bed, help Emmeline with her hat, clean out the drawers in my writing table, tell Harold to stop talking to himself and go to sleep and hunt for the theater tickets in the pockets of my street clothes. After that I have time to read a page or two of — and go in to see that Harold is well covered up. Emmeline always makes me save time by having me ring for the elevator while she is drawing on her gloves. Nevertheless we are a few minutes late for the first act.—Simeon Strunsky in Atlantic.

Sleep.

The science and poetry of sleep are here.

Science has this in the London Globe: Sleep begins in its first phase by a state of distraction. In a second phase, these states of distraction pass into a very delicate motor disturbance, due to the absence of parallelism in the axes of the eyes or by the deviation of their conjugate movements.

And poetry this:

Sleep hath its own world,
A boundary between the things misnamed
Death and existence. Sleep hath its own world.

And dreams in their development have breath
And tears and tortures and the touch of joy.

And Shakespeare's "Sleep that knits up the ravell'd sleeve of care." And a host of others that you can get glimpses of in the anthologies.

As between science and poetry, which gives you the truer idea of sleep?—Kansas City Star.

Euler's Wonderful Memory.

Leonhard Euler, who was born in 1707 and died in 1783 at St. Petersburg, where he spent his life as a teacher of great power and as a prolific writer, was an instance of the genuine mathematician endowed with almost superhuman powers. He left more than 200 manuscript treatises on his favorite subject, and the bulk of the works published by his academy between 1727 and 1783 were from his pen. In his old age he was totally blind. Then he carried in his memory a table of the first six powers of the "series of natural numbers up to 100."

It is related that on one occasion two of Euler's students attempted to calculate a converging series. As they advanced they found they disagreed in the result by a unit in the fifth-figure. The question was referred to Euler, who decided to make the calculation. He did this mentally, and his result was found to be correct.

YOU CAN HAVE A WEALTH OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Nothing equals an aureole of beautiful hair as a frame for a pretty face. Without a background of nice hair a really pretty face frequently becomes plain and, with it, unattractive features assume life and beauty.

Every woman can increase her natural charm by using Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide makes hair beautiful. The dandruff germ saps the vitality of the hair. Herpicide applied intelligently and regularly checks this destruction of hair life and prevents the hair from falling out, giving it a snap and luster, a soft, silky fluffiness which can be acquired in no other way.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1.00 sizes is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Applications may be obtained at the best barber shops and hair dressing parlors. Red Cross Drug Store, special agents.—Adv.
