

RUMORS AFFIRM

quarters will contain the specific charges upon which action was based.

Rumor is rife among the railroad men that 70 brakemen and 20 agents are to receive the same treatment in a few days and the rumor emanated from authoritative sources.

The railroad men have known for some time that a "spotter" has been at work among them and they believe they have the "spotter" spotted. Recently a man riding on a train as a passenger had Chief Kearney arrest the passenger brakeman, claiming he had robbed him of $10 while he was asleep. A search of the brakeman failed to reveal any money whereas about 20 gold pieces were found on the accused. Afterwards it was learned that he had been offering cash fares to all conductors. The usual charges against conductors include "knocking down," "carrying a friend" and "loozing."

Worse Than Before.
A doctor had a very nervous patient. One day he came to the doctor in great trouble. During the night, he said, he had accidentally swallowed a mouse. The doctor told him to get a cat and some toasted cheese and to lie on his back with his mouth open and the cheese on his nose. "Then," said the doctor, "when the mouse smells the cheese he will come up for it and the cat will then be able to catch it."

The man thanked him and went home. But the next day he was back again in worse trouble than ever. "Well, did you do as I told you?" asked the doctor. "Yes," said the man, "but while I was lying on my back I fell off to sleep. Now the cat is missing and I'm afraid it has gone down after the mouse!"—London Tit-Bits.

The Class Was On.
This story is told of an absentminded professor at Drew Theological seminary. One evening while studying he had need of a bookmark. Seeing nothing else handy he used his wife's scissors, which lay on the sewing table. A few minutes later the wife wanted the scissors, but a diligent search failed to reveal them.

"HERE THEY ARE, DEAR!"

The next day the professor appeared before his class and opened his book. There lay the lost scissors. He picked them up and, holding them above his head, shouted:

"Here they are, dear!"

Yes, the class got it—Everybody's.

For an Impaired Appetite.

To improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion try a few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets. Mr. J. H. Seitz, of Detroit, Mich., says: "They restored my appetite when impaired, relieved me of a bloated feeling and caused a pleasant and satisfactory movement of the bowels."

The Sunkist Orange
With the Different Flavor
Ask for "Sunkist Valencias"

The Valencia Sunkist is the California Summer Orange—a sweet, juicy, luscious fruit, ripened on the tree.
Easy to peel, and practically seedless.
Some are dark in exterior appearance, some lighter in color. But all are a deep red inside and sparkling with healthful juice.

Oranges are picked in California every day in the year, and the Late Valencia is one of the very finest ever grown.
Glove-picked, tissue-wrapped, shipped right from the tree—you get it fresh with the real tree-ripened flavor.
Don't buy merely "oranges." Buy the Sunkist Valencias. See what you are missing in not getting this brand.

Try These Lemons, Too
Use Sunkist Lemons to serve with fish and meats. Use the juice wherever you now use vinegar. These are the best looking and the best lemons sold. Juicy, fully flavored and practically seedless. There's a vast difference in different brands of lemons. Try "Sunkist" and see.
