

M'GRATH HURT IN HORSE RACE

UNION HORSEMAN SUFFERS UNDER FALL

Union Sends Delegation of Seventy-five to Wild West Show.

Hank McGrath, a participant in the wild west show witnessed by 1500 people yesterday afternoon in a down-pour of rain, was injured, internally it is reported today, when a wild horse entry went over the fence with the well-known Union rider. Mr. McGrath was pulled from under the horse in a dazed condition, and after being carried away, recovered and was able to walk. Later it was found, it is reported, that his chest was injured internally. The rider and mount went over the fence in a side-swipe fall.

The show was better than the most sanguine could expect on a rainy day and on a muddy field. The chariot race had to be dropped, but otherwise the program was carried out. A. G. Clark, the goat of many puns and harpoons during his stay, was on the track in chaps and spurs, and rode many a prancing mount. Clark, from the moment of his arrival, was one of the big features of the fun path.

Seventy-five people—coming in the rain like they did for the fair—were in attendance at the show. The auto caravan worked a hardship on Union for which no one was to blame, but Union solved that problem, and then climbed aboard a special car and came to the show—75 strong. About 15 automobiles got to Union yesterday noon with the merchants after Union had been told that none were coming on account of the mud. Many cars got through. Union got out her lunch again—after having invited her own people to come and consume it—and though handicapped with lack of waiters who had been there early in the day dressed in shiny white, Union served refreshments to the visitors.

The Spain boys, Zeek and Buffalo Vernon put on an attractive show of all the varieties usually seen at such a production. Everybody was happy at the vacation from labor, despite the rain.

A movies man got the performance.

A Garden Tragedy.

William C. Brown, apropos of his resignation as president of the New York Central, which he made in order to go back to farm life, said recently: "With the coming of spring we all feel the call of the country. Fortunately for the poor clerk who feels this call, there are the little suburban houses with their vegetable and flower gardens. And what an ardent farmer the suburbanite becomes!

"I was staying last spring with a suburban gardener friend of mine. He had gone one evening for a stroll in his garden when suddenly his wife and I saw him run excitedly up the garden path toward us. He carried a tiny cherry tree no bigger than a small rosebush in one hand.

"Mary, Mary!" he called in heart-broken tones. "The wind has broken our cherry tree. I arrived just in time for the poor little thing to die in my arms!"

FROM DAY TO DAY.
When hope lies dead within the heart.
By secret sorrow long concealed.
We shrink lest looks or words impart
What may not be revealed.

'Tis hard to smile when one would weep,
To speak when one would silent be.
To wake when one would wish to sleep
And wake to agony.

Yet such the lot for thousands cast.
Who wander in this world of care
And bend beneath the bitter blast
To save them from despair.
Yet nature waits her guests to greet
Where disappointment cannot come.
And time leads with unerring feet
The weary wanderer home.
—Anna Hunter (1742-1821).

A Concession.

She—You don't allow me to do anything I want! If it goes on much longer I shall go home to mamma.
He—That I will allow you to do.—Flekkende Blatter.

Corrected.

He—Darling, refuse me, and I shall never love another girl! She (briskly)—What I want is a man who will promise me that if I accept him—Judge.

Doesn't Suffer Much.

"Does your wife suffer in silence?"
"Yes, and I am sorry if she did not suffer in silence perhaps she would be silent oftener."—Houston Post.

Result of Rashness.

"Out of a job, are you?" asked the first girl. "Boss catch you flirting?"
"No; I caught the boss. Say, what sort of a wedding dress do you think is real swell?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Souvenir Soons.

"My dear Gladys, what are all these photographs of young men you have?"
"Those? Oh, they're only my collection of souvenir spoons!"—Baltimore American.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors who were so extremely kind and considerate to us during the bereavement caused by the death of our son, both through acts of kindness and by floral gifts.
