Are You Going to Attend the Grande Ronde Chautauqua

JULY 3 to 12

From the first coming of the white man, and even long before, Grande Ronde Valley has been famous for its beauty, location, and riches. Today it is known to all who have seen it and thousands of others as the Garden Spot of the Inland Empire. La Grande is recognized as the hub city of Eastern Oregon. All experts say Grande Ronde Valley is the largest, richest body of land in the west.

Due to years of healthful development, La Grande and Union county have earned a well merited reputation of being the most prosperous city and county in Oregon. Due to its favorable location La Grande has prospered by help of the largest payroll in the state outside of Portland; and due to its enviable soil and climate Grande Ronde Valley has prospered by reason of the most diversified yield of any county in the West. As La Grande has grown it has provided market facilities for the enormous production of the Grande Ronde Valley; and the valley in turn has cheaply furnished the city with the necessities of life. And in addition the hills and meadows of Union county surrounding the great valley yield cattle, and horses, and timber, and gold and power. This community has long been known as a city where business is always good, where citizens are seldom out of employment, where homes and farms lands are reasonable, and where crops are certain. And the people of this section are wide awake, progressive, developers.

But of late years a new fame has come to this favored locality. Added to the thrift of the people has grown the desire for culture. During the past few years La Grande has built some splendid churches, a $100,000.00 high school and three fine modern grade schools, a large public library; and a Y. M. C. A. is now in course of construction.

The women of La Grande have provided the city with one of nature's grandest beauty spots as a natural park, and by their gift incidentally provided an ideal home for the Grand Ronde Chautauqua assembly that is doing its share to bring La Grande forward as the educational and cultural center of Eastern Oregon.

We have many choice resident properties in and about La Grande at prices and terms to suit everybody. Call and see us.
