KAFFIR "BOY" SERVANTS.

They Bathe and Oil Themselves and Then Don Filthy Clothes. Most of the "domestic" work in South Africa is done by the Kaffirs, who are called "boys," no matter what their age may be.

When the Kaffir boys come from the kraals no one ever uses their native names. As soon as they are brought into contact with the whites they take a "white" name. This produces results not lacking in the elements of humor.

Among the house boys "Knife," "Fork" and "Spoon" are common names. "Table," "Chair," "Carriage," "Watch" and "Matchbox" are others more infrequently used. There is of record one boy who took the utilitarian name of "Ham and Eggs."

The Kaffirs are very fond of rice when they learn to eat it among the whites, and one stable boy thought he had found the finest name in the world in "Rice."

In some respects the Kaffirs are the cleanest people in the world. They are forever scrubbing themselves in hot water and anointing themselves with oil afterward. But the habit does not extend to their clothes. They will take an elaborate bath and then don clothes that never saw the wash tub.—Washington Star.

Knowing a good thing isn't enough, you've got to know a bad thing when you see it.

Many a man loses more time trying to save a nickel than it would take him to earn a dollar.

A 6,000,000 egg shipment from China adds the promise of a foreign yolk to the yellow peril.

Women imitate the men in many things, but you never hear of a girl chewing tobacco.

WOMAN IN HISTORY.

She Appears to Have Got Herself on a Good Many Pages.

Some advocates of equal suffrage and feminine progress seem to think that woman has not been given her proper place and due credit in history. And yet, don't you know, we had not observed the historic discrimination against woman! On the contrary, the place of woman in history has looked pretty good to us.

What about Joan of Arc? And Charlotte Corday? And Rebecca the Jewess? Anything namby pamby in them? Who said Martha Washington and Florence Nightingale? Then there are—don't let everybody speak at once—Ruth and Rachel and Potiphar's wife not to mention Lot's.

You bet Caudle had no contempt for Mrs. Caudle, nor Mantalini for the madame.

We need not go so far back as Cleopatra and Aspasia except to remark that in their day they cut a rather wide swath around Alexandria and Athens, and appear no small bunch of rednecks on both the dramatic stage and the historic page. Moll Pitcher was a hammer in American history and Sal Junger a roller in English history; Mrs. Merriam was no slouch. Does Catharine of Russia count for nothing, nor Maria Theresa of Austria, nor Elizabeth and Victoria of Britain, among feminine sovereigns?

Graciosa, here come trooping in at the door, their bright eyes shining and their rosy cheeks glowing, Jessie Brown of Lucknow and Jennie Deane of Midlothian, and Ethel Newcome and Lucy Fountain and Florence Dombey. God bless their sweet souls, each and every one!—Louisville Courier Journal.
